TAFT GRANTS DEMAND FOR INVESTIGATION OF LAND OFFICE

Matters Underlying Ballinger-Pinchot Controversy to Be Probed.

INQUIRY TO BE PUBLIC

Republican Leaders Convinced That Welfare of Party Requires Prompt Action.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. President Taft today yielded to the demands of both Secretary Ballinger and his critics for a public investigation of the whole subject matter underlying the so-called Ballinger-Pinchot controversy.

Mr. Ballinger this afternoon served upon the President virtually an ultimatum to the effect that such an investigation was indeed the price of his remaining in the cabinet. He made it clear that he was no longer willing to sit silent and wait for the thing to "blow over."

Mr. Taft, it is said, reluctantly admitted the disappointment of his hope that the country at large would accept as final his own vindication of Mr. Ballinger in his dismissal of the charges brought against the secretary of the interior by L. R. Glavis, former special agent of the land office, and his conclusion that the investigation demanded by both sides was inevitable.

Mr. Ballinger's attitude in this matter has the support of leading Republicans in both branches of Congress. Senators and representatives who feel that, entirely apart from the merits of the controversy itself, a festering sore of this character must poison the whole system of the party in power, and that it is high time to resort to the lance.

Conferences Held.

These leaders, convinced that a cleansing of this wound is necessary, have [illegible] to go to the White House and [illegible] their views upon Mr. Taft. Conferences of a confidential character, in which members of the cabinet, party leaders in both Houses of Congress and the President himself have participated, culminated today when Secretary Ballinger, Attorney General Wickersham, and Postmaster General Hitchcock met in Mr. Wickersham's office and proceeded thence to the White House, where the matter was laid before the President. [illegible] told the President, it is said, that the situation had become intolerable to him and that though the constant charges against him had come from irresponsible persons, he could not longer sit supinely by and, in justice to himself, he felt compelled to insist upon an investigation.

The President was given to understand that Mr. Ballinger's demand carried with it the indorsement of both Mr. Wickersham and Mr. Hitchcock. It is known tonight that he has the sympathy also of other members of the cabinet.

Tomorrow is cabinet day. There can be little doubt that this will be one of the important subjects of that meeting. Presumably this is one of the principal reasons why the investigation, backed by the administration, will probably not be broached in Congress before its adjournment tomorrow for the holiday recess.

Several things have served to bring the matter to a head. The speech of Representative Hitchcock a Democrat, of Nebraska in the House a few days ago, demanding action upon his resolution providing for an investigation of the land office, was a factor. Mr. Ballinger, it is said, feared that this resolution might be laid upon the table by the Republican majority and that such action would be construed by his enemies as an effort on the part of the administration to "whitewash" him.

A few days ago he received pointed advice from a close personal friend, a man who has recently left the government service, who has himself been an investigator of the department of justice and who is an expert on land laws urging just such an ultimatum as Mr. Ballinger carried to the White House today. He impressed upon the secretary the conviction that the time had come when he must either demand an investigation or retire to private life.

Party's Future Involved.

Four important aspects of the situation are taken into consideration by the party leaders:

First—The effect upon the future of the Republican party and of the Taft administration if attacks upon the integrity of a member of the President's official family may be made with impunity and allowed to pass unanswered and unchallenged.

Second—The possibility of the controversy between adherents and opponents of Secretary Ballinger becoming so bitter as to endanger party legislation.

Third—The practical standstill of the whole policy of conservation of natural resources during the present conflict among those in whose hands lies the administration of that policy.

Fourth—The desire to do justice toward the cabinet officer whose personal and official integrity has been assailed.

So the decision has been reached to sift the entire matter to the bottom. It remains only to settle on the

OPPOSITION GOES AS PAVING IS EXPLAINED

COMMITTEE OF 11 WILL REPORT TOMORROW.

Tenants Say They Have Right to Demand Improvements From Landlords.

Although resulting in no definite action, yesterday afternoon's paving conference at the city hall accomplished much in that it gave the property owners of the downtown district as well as members of the citizens committee of 11 a thorough understanding of the paving proposition.

Big property owners who came to the meeting to protest against any action at the present time toward paving the downtown district, left the city hall at the close of the meeting enthusiastic workers for the betterment of the city by paving. Practically every protest voiced against paving at yesterday's conference was due to a lack of understanding of what the Council proposes to do.

W. H. Roby's protest against paving at the present time on the ground that the property owners, who must bear the expense, have been ignored, brought forth a spirited reply from Fred S. Tucker of the Tucker Furniture company, who said that the merchants, who have several millions of dollars invested in their stocks, are demanding improvements in the form of paving. Mr. Tucker said that in this instance, the men who were renting the property were more vitally interested than the property owners. On account of the growth of the city and imperative needs of paving, Mr. Tucker said that the tenants had a right to demand from their landlords this improvement.

Explains to Taxpayers.

Mayor Avery then explained that the meeting was called for the purpose of explaining the entire proposition to the taxpayers. Instead of sending around petitions for paving before the cost of the various materials and their durability had been investigated, the city sent a committee east to secure the proper estimates. This report was then submitted to a committee of property owners appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants association and Real Estate exchange. It will be up to this committee to meet and if possible report to the Council tomorrow morning what kind of paving it thinks the city should use and what district should be first created. In this way, the property owner will know what kind of paving is to be laid, how much it costs, how long it will last, and when he is approached and asked to sign a petition to pave the street on which his property lies, he will have a plain business proposition to consider.

After this explanation, Mr. Roby changed his views on the paving prob-

NEGRO LYNCHED IN TEXAS

Resisted Arrest and Shot Marshal Race Riots Imminent in Alabama and Arkansas.

ROSEBUD, Texas, Dec. 20.—Coke Mills, a negro, who shot and fatally wounded City Marshal Williams today, was taken from jail by a mob tonight and hanged.

Williams was shot while attempting to take the negro into custody on a minor charge.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 20.—Barricading themselves in a house, Will, Sheldon and Clinton Montgomery, negroes, wanted for the murder Saturday night of Algernon Lewis, a young white man, late this afternoon opened fire on a sheriff's posse near Magnolia, Marengo county, wounding four whites, two fatally. The house was set on fire and Clinton Montgomery was cremated, the other two being captured when they dashed from the burning building.

Marengo county has a large negro population and a race riot is believed imminent.

Ernest Slade, one of four white men shot by Clinton Montgomery, is fatally injured and his death, expected at any time, may serve to fan the flames of race hatred.

Search is being continued tonight for Will Montgomery, another of the four brothers.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 20.—Following the shooting to death in his cell at Devil's Bluff, Ark., of George Bailey, a negro, by a mob and the gathering in protest today of a number of negroes, a clash between the races at that point is not improbable, according to a dispatch tonight.

Bailey shot and probably fatally wounded Matt Todd, a well-known planter, yesterday.

SUMNER, Miss., Dec. 20.—Deputy Sheriff Frank Chambers was shot and killed at Black Bayou late today by Aaron McCoy, one of two negroes he had in custody handcuffed, and in turn McCoy was shot to death by a bystander.

Henry Weems, the other prisoner, was hurried to jail and tonight was taken away to prevent a lynching.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Dec. 20.—Eight companies of militia were ready to start for Belleville, Ill., tonight, and Sheriff Cashel was waiting at the St. Clair county jail there with a heavily armed force of deputies.

Rumors that an attack would be made upon the jail because of the presence there of Will Clark, a negro suspected of shooting two street car employes in East St. Louis Saturday night caused the preparations for an emergency.

PRESIDENT GRATIFIED AT CONFIRMATION OF LURTON

No Opposition Made in Senate to Appointment of Supreme Court Justice.

FORAKER RENOMINATED

Bacon Named as Ambassador to France, Kerens to Austria and Wilson to Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Both Senate and House concluded their labors by 2 o'clock today. Tomorrow a holiday adjournment for two weeks will be taken.

Judge Horace H. Lurton was today confirmed by the Senate as associate justice of the United States supreme court. No opposition appeared.

President Taft was deeply gratified by the prompt action of the Senate in confirming the nomination of Judge Lurton. The President told his callers that he knew Judge Lurton's record in nearly every detail and he was entirely satisfied of his impartiality in dealing with every subject relating to capital and labor.

Among United States marshals named by President Taft today was Creighton M. Foraker of New Mexico, who has held the office there for 16 years. Interest attaches to the appointment and some political significance was thought to be included, as Mr. Foraker is a brother of former Senator Foraker of Ohio, and President Taft greatly desires to bring the Republican factions in Ohio into closer harmony.

The Senate today confirmed the nomination of William J. Mills of East Las Vegas, N. M., to be governor of New Mexico.

Ambassadors and Ministers.

A long list of nomination in the diplomatic service was sent to the Senate today.

Robert F. Dixon of New York, named as ambassador to France, is a graduate of Harvard university. He was formerly a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan and company. He was appointed assistant secretary of state September 5, 1907, and was secretary of state from January 27 to March 6, 1909.

Richard C. Kerens, named as ambassador to Austria-Hungary, is a native of Ireland, where he was born in 1842. He served in the Union army from 1861 to 1865 and after the war went to Arkansas and later to San Diego, Cal., where he was a railway contractor. He removed to St. Louis in 1876 and has since lived there.

Henry Lane Wilson, transferred from the mission to Belgium to be ambassador to Mexico, was first appointed in the diplomatic service in June, 1897, as minister to Chile. Mr. Wilson was born in Indiana in 1857. At the time of his appointment to the diplomatic service he lived in Spokane, Wash.

Horace K. Knowles of Delaware, transferred from Nicaragua to Santo Domingo, was born in Delaware in 1863. He is a lawyer.

Henry T. Gage of California, appointed to Portugal, lives in Sacramento. He was governor of California from 1899 to 1903.

Laurits S. Swenson of Minneapolis, appointed minister to Switzerland, was born in 1865 of Norwegian parents. He is identified with various important business interests in Minneapolis. He was United States minister to Denmark from 1897 to 1905.

Henry P. Fletcher of Chambersburg, Pa., appointed minister to Chile, is 36 years old and a lawyer. He was appointed secretary at Pekin, April 23, 1907.

Charles Page Bryan of Illinois, transferred from Portugal to Belgium, practiced law for several years in Colorado, where he also served in the legislature.

Charles W. Russell of Washington, D. C., appointed minister to Persia, is now assistant attorney general of the United States. He has for the last 20 years been connected with the department of justice.

William James Calhoun of Chicago, appointed minister to China, is a lawyer, who has had considerable diplomatic experience in Cuba and Venezuela. He served for two years as a member of the interstate commerce commission.

Other changes in the diplomatic service are:

Fenton R. McCreary of Flint Mich., transferred as minister from the Dominican Republic to Honduras.

R. S. Reynolds Hitt to be minister to Panama.

Edwin V. Morgan transferred as minister from Cuba to Paraguay and Uruguay.

John R. Jackson transferred from the mission to Persia to that of Cuba.

Peter A. Jay of Rhode Island to be promoted to agent and consul-general at Cairo.

To be secretaries of embassies:

Irwin B. Laughlin of Pennsylvania at Berlin.

Hoffman V. Phillip of New York at Rio De Janeiro.

Montgomery Schuyler, Jr., of New York at Tokio.

Reid's Successor Not Yet Chosen.

With regard to the post of ambassador to Great Britain it was said today that there was no definite understanding as to just how long Whitelaw Reid will continue to serve. Forty

CITY COUNCIL ASKS FOR RESIGNATIONS?

RUMORS OF POLICE SHAKEUP IN COLORADO CITY.

Aldermen After "Star Chamber Session Refuse to Talk or Deny Reports.

Rumors that will not down were afloat in Colorado City last night that the city council has asked for the resignation of Chief of Police H. O. McDowell and Patrolman J. H. Stokes. To add strength to this members of the council, after a "star chamber" session, refused absolutely to discuss matters taken up, and when the matter was put up to some of them point-blank, he refused to deny the report. The only thing the lawmakers would say was that the proceedings would be made public in a few days. The reason, if any, for asking for the resignations, has not been divulged.

Last night was the third time in the last two weeks that the Colorado City council has held executive sessions. Some time ago there was a meeting of the police committee, at which a discussion was had regarding the advisability of cutting down the police force to four men, in order to reduce expenses. Again, at another meeting, police matters in general were discussed. From that time on the rumors in regard to the removal of McDowell and Stokes have been afloat.

One of the aldermen was asked last night what action had been taken.

"We took definite action, and that is all I can say," was the reply.

"Then you will not deny that the resignation of both McDowell and Stokes was asked for and accepted?" was the next question.

"No, I certainly won't deny it," came the reply.

Past this point the alderman would not go.

Other work transacted at the meeting was the granting of a saloon license to ex-Fire Chief L. C. Moats, allowing a bill for $707 for the sewer extension, to Frank Priess, and putting the application of Charles Meyers for a position as assistant on the fire wagon, on the table until the matter could be looked into. Several minor bills were also allowed.

DR. COOK IN NORWAY

Explorer Probably Will Go to Copenhagen This Week, Says His Brother.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook is now in Christiansand, Norway, according to an announcement made here early today on the authorization of William L. Cook of Brooklyn, the explorer's brother, who received a letter from his brother yesterday stating he arrived at Naples on December 11. The doctor, his brother adds, probably will go on to Copenhagen this week to appear before the committee of scientists now examining his data.

The disappearance of Dr. Cook is likely to cost him dearly. The Explorers club, which for more than two months has been investigating Dr. Cook's reputed ascent of Mount McKinley in 1906, has completed the examination. H. "Marshal" Saville the chairman, does not deny that the report will be unfavorable. The doctor promised last October to appear before the committee, but he has failed to do so.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—"I believe that my brother, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, is on his way to Copenhagen," said William L. Cook, a Brooklyn milk dealer, today. "I have not heard from him in a week, and the last message I had said he was in New York, and that he was preparing to go to Copenhagen in time to hear the report of the university commission."

John R. Bradley, Cook's backer, is not as enthusiastic.

"It looks bad for Cook," he said today.

FORM FEDERATION OF BROTHERHOODS

J. R. ROBINSON HEADS NEW ORGANIZATION.

Members Will Parade January 11. Noon Meetings Will Be One Feature of Work.

A federation of the various brotherhoods of the churches of Colorado Springs was brought about at a meeting held last night at the Y. M. C. A. building. The movement has been under way for several weeks, but it was not until last night that a permanent organization was effected.

Temporary officers who were chosen at a meeting held last November, were elected as permanent leaders of the combined brotherhood under whose auspices many events, including a revival campaign, will take place. They are: President, J. R. Robinson; vice president, C. C. Morris, treasurer, F. A. Bartholomew, and secretary, C. B. Hall.

Mr. Hall stated last night that the work of the organization will be aggressive and widespread. Another meeting will be held soon at which many matters of vital interest not alone to the churches but to the city in general will be taken up.

Plans have been completed by the Y. M. C. A. for one of the most extensive evangelistic campaigns ever carried on in the city. Well-known evangelists and ministers of many of the churches in the city will unite their efforts and a large number of meetings will be held by which it is hoped all classes in the city will be reached.

The Crystal theater has been engaged and the initial meeting of the campaign will be held there the first Sunday in January. These meetings will be continued for three months and the very best talent in the city will be secured. The Federated Brotherhood of the churches of the city will take an active part. The services of A. M. Bruner, one of the foremost evangelists of the country have been secured for part of these meetings. He will be in Colorado Springs February 10 to 24. Noon meetings will be a strong feature of the campaign and a parade of the brotherhood men of the city will take place, probably on January 11. Newton N. Rudd II will be another prominent speaker at the meetings. On January 2 Dr. W. W. Ranney, pastor of the First Congregational church, will speak on "The New Year's Message to Men." Dr. H. A. Johnston will speak January 9 on "Love's Challenge."

SHOPPERS IMPERILED BY FIRE IN LONDON

Flames Break Out in Store Crowded With Customers. Three Lives Lost.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—A disastrous fire, involving as far as known yet, the loss of three lives, destroyed the big drapery store of Arding & Hobbs, at Clapham, a southwestern quarter of London, today.

The fire occurred about 4:30 p. m., when the store, covering an acre of ground and having five floors and 100 departments, was crowded with customers, the Christmas trade being in full swing. In little more than an hour the building was a mass of ruins. The damage is estimated at $2,500,000.

All the customers made their way to safety out of the store, and there was little panic.

While a girl employe was trying to reach the ground the ladder took fire, and she fell and was killed. Two men jumped, and also were killed.

Many persons were assisted from the windows by firemen, and several employes were seriously injured, a few fatally. At midnight it was still impossible to search the ruins, and some of the employes are unaccounted for.

MILITARY BOARD ACTS FAVORABLY

LOCAL COMPANY N. G. C. WILL BE MUSTERED IN.

Governor's Approval to Armory Site as Soon as He Finds Title Clear.

A National Guard armory for Colorado Springs and a local company to be enrolled in the Second regiment, N. G. C., are practically assured. The State Military board at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the capitol in Denver, ratified all plans that have been made, owing to several technical questions, final action could not be taken at that time, but Adjutant General John Chase stated last night over the long-distance telephone that there is no doubt that all matters will be carried out as arranged.

The new company probably will be mustered in some time this week. The minimum complement is 58 men and a much larger enrollment will undoubtedly be recorded. So far no one name has been put forward for the captaincy. There are said to be as many as six men eligible.

Colonel W. A. Davis of this city who is in command of the Second regiment, appeared personally before the board and presented a petition for the recruiting of a company, bearing 60 signatures. Colonel Davis stated also that there were three others whose names would have appeared had they had time to sign before he left Colorado Springs. The board after considering the matter, referred both questions, that of the armory and the recruiting of a company to Governor John F. Shafroth, who will investigate the title to the proposed armory site and then, if it is found clear, grant his approval. As soon as this is obtained the new company will be mustered in.

There is not the least bit of doubt that the governor will soon approve the plans," said General Chase last night. "The plans that have been made will be carried out."

The military board is composed of Governor Shafroth, Adjutant General Chase, State Attorney General John Barnett, Colonel Zeph Hill, senior line officer, and Colonel Charles Carlile.

FORMER SENATOR HARRIS DROPS DEAD IN CHICAGO

Distinguished Kansan Stricken With Heart Disease When Apparently in Good Health.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Former United States Senator William A. Harris of Kansas died suddenly of heart disease today at the home of his son-in-law in this city. He was apparently in good health just before he sank to the floor, dying in a few minutes.

He was born in Virginia in 1841, served in the Confederate army and moved to Kansas in 1865. He became prominent as a breeder of short horn cattle.

Col. Harris was a Populist member of Congress in 1893-95. In 1897 he was elected to the United States Senate to succeed William A. Peffer.

While a member of the Senate, Colonel Harris took an active part in the legislation incident to the repayment by the Union Pacific railway of the heavy dividend loan with which the road had been financed. He parted company with many of the minority in Congress in that he supported President McKinley's policy for the annexation of Hawaii.

In 1897 Colonel Harris was succeeded in the Senate by Chester I. Long. In 1906 he was the Democratic nominee for governor of Kansas and was defeated by E. W. Hoch by about 2,000 majority.

MADRIZ IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF NICARAGUA

Choice Unsatisfactory to Insurgents and They Will Continue to Fight.

MESSAGE FROM ESTRADA

Peace Possible Only by Complete Exclusion of Zelaya and His Followers.

MANAGUA, Dec. 20.—Dr. Jose Madriz, former judge of the Central American court of justice at Cartago and Zelaya's candidate, was today elected president of Nicaragua by the unanimous vote of Congress. When the official announcement was made there were vociferous cheering and cries of "Viva Madriz," "Viva Leon," "Down with monopolies," "Down with tyranny," "Long live the constitution."

Dr. Madriz will assume the presidency at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. He was escorted to the balcony of his hotel, where he greeted great crowds that had gathered around the building. He made a brief speech, urging harmony and co-operation. He pledged that he would uphold the rights of the citizens granting free election and establishing a policy of equal opportunities for all.

It is known to both Zelaya and Madriz that Estrada, the leader of the revolutionists who are ready to do battle with the government forces at Rama, is strongly opposed to the new president, for it is well understood that Estrada himself has ambitions to fill the presidential chair.

A delegation of malcontents arriving here from Granada brings news of a demonstration which occurred there Saturday. A crowd formed at the railway station and forcibly released from custody several political prisoners. Cries of "death to Zelaya" accompanied the rioting. The police made a demonstration finally training a Maxim gun on them. Several were arrested and the others fled.

RAMA, Dec. 20.—General Estrada, in command of the revolutionary forces, began his forward movement against the Zelayan troops all along the line this morning. The battle will be in the bush and may last several days.

Attitude of United States.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. Secretary Knox let it be known today that the attitude of this government toward Nicaragua would not be changed by the election of Madriz to the presidency as the successor of Zelaya, resigned.

This country still maintains that until a responsible government is set up and is in entire control of the situation no definite negotiations can be held and diplomatic relations can not be resumed.

"We are not trying to coerce Nicaragua," said a high state department official this afternoon after a call at the White House. "We are not dictating what shall be done in Nicaragua or who shall be named as president. All we want is a responsible government that we can do business with."

"Abhorrent conditions under the despotic administration of Zelaya in Nicaragua have shocked the moral sense and been a disgrace to civilization," declares Representative Adair of Indiana in a joint resolution introduced today, directing the United States to recognize Estrada as President of the republic of Nicaragua.

"It is the duty of the United States," runs the resolution, "and the United States is hereby directed, demanding the arrest, trial and punishment of Nicaragua by an international tribunal to Nicaragua for wilful murder of citizens of the United States; and [illegible] ology for the Nicaraguan [illegible] girls Mount Sinai, at the south, the country is divided into four narrow strips. Along the coast a ribbon of great beauty; then a rugged range of brown hills whose verdure has long since been stripped away; then the disrupted river valley leading down into the abysmal horrors of the Dead Sea; and beyond that the purple peaks of these mountains whereon stood Nebo, from which he was vouchsafed that one glimpse of the Promised Land which was to him forbidden.

Scene of Strife.

It is difficult for the Twentieth century man, be he Jew or Gentile, to realize how small was the stage upon which was enacted those great events which have shaped religious belief and which have moulded political action in all the occidental world for nearly 2,000 years. It is even more difficult to realize that Palestine today is the home of the miserable descendants of those same people who were there when it became, by successive dramas, the Holy Land of Israel, Christendom, and Islam; and that those people now are engaged in a struggle for political freedom which has for the first time united many men of many faiths in this country of religious strife.

It is difficult for Christians in America, hearing at this glad holiday season the ever-new message announcing the birth of the Prince of Peace, to realise that in the Holy Land it is necessary every hour of every day for Mohammedan soldiers to stand on guard in Christian churches to prevent the rival sects of the followers of the lowly Jesus from cutting each other's throats, and from slaying the Jews in their own city.

It is difficult, in this modern day, to realize why the physical misery and degradation of the Holy Land should not be overcome and alleviated by the hosts of Christian pilgrims who annually make the journey to scenes of the every-day life of their Savior. It is difficult to realize that in this country where was revealed the religion of cleanliness that mortal men should be more dirty than in any other place on earth. It is difficult to realize that in this land where the Great Physician healed the lepers and restored sight to the blind, there should be more lepers and more blind men than in any other country. It is difficult to realize that in Palestine, from whence came the inspiration for the three religions which have made possible every progressive step in the western world, that men live and have their being amid conditions practically unchanged from those whoch obtained 2,000 years ago. It is difficult to realize that among all the people of all the world the people of Palestine should be least responsive to the civilizing influence of the railroad and the refining inspiration of the telegraph.

Season for Rejoicing.

But at this particular Christmas season, in the year of Our Lord, 1909, the Christian world, the remnant of Israel, and household of the Prophet of Allah, may rejoice together for the first time in the fulfillment, for all, of the words of Simeon of Jerusalem:

"Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word. For mine eyes have seen thy salvation, which thou hast prepared before the face of all people: A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel."

Within the year since last Christmas the light of freedom has broken upon this distressed Holy Land and for the first time in all the centuries its people have known the spirit of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. For 13 centuries it has been death for a Jew to enter the courtyard of the Church of the Holy Sepulcher. For 1,300 years no Jew has stood upon the site of the Temple of Solomon. Bloodthirsty Christians forgetting the words of the Master upon the cross, have murdered Jews who so much as dared to approach the grave of Jesus. Cruel believers upon Mohammed have cut the throats of pious Jews who sought to lift up their voices in prayer upon the hill where Melchesidek and Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, David and Solomon, Hezekiah and the Maccabees, invoked the succor of Jehovah. Treacherous and vindictive Jews, suffering under the persecutions of centuries, have dealt death to the enemies of other creeds. Ever since Jesus died on the Cross of Calvary has Jerusalem and all this Holy Land been drenched with blood shed by murderers who slew their victims in the name of religion.

Then came this year 1909 of the Christian era, 5,669 of the Jewish era, and 1327 of the Mohammedan era, and the light of liberty for the first time broke through the clouds of religious intolerance and illumined the churches and synagogues and mosques of the city of Jerusalem. It was the Young Turks revolution.

Delivered From Despotism.

The despotic Sultan Abdul Hamid was overthrown, and the constitution became a reality in benighted Turkey, of which Palestine is a part. What a great celebration it was in Jerusalem! Young men of every creed united in the demonstration of joy. Christians arm in arm with Jews and Mohammedans went boldly into the holiest of all holy Christian churches, the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, and gave thanks for their new-found liberty. Mohammedans took with them Jews and Christians to the platform of the temple, surrounding the Mosque of Omar, and gave vent to their joyous feeling. Jews took Christians and Turkish political allies into the sacred precincts of their synagogues. Every difference of faith was forgotten in the common joy. Of course, this religious union lasted only for a day, and now the old lines are drawn again, but they are not as taut as they used to be, and never again will they mean death to the trespasser. Turkey is free and the Holy Land is delivered from the curse of despotism.

Not free in the sense that we Americans know freedom, for the habits of centuries may not be overthrown entirely in a moment, but free in the sense that for the first time the spirit of liberty and of universal brotherhood is permitted to influence the minds of the people. The railroad, the telegraph, the newspaper and the schools now have their opportunity to remake and remold the Holy Land in the light of true holiness.

At this Christmas season, every American Christian, Protestant and Catholic, and every American Jew, should rejoice that it was the American influence, more than all else besides, that made possible these "good tidings of great joy." The American Missionary College of Syria furnished the basis of education which made the Young Turk movement possible. The American Catholics in Jerusalem did their part in bringing to the people the knowledge of free institutions. And, more indirectly, but none the less effectively, it was the American influence in opening the empire of Japan to western civilization that gave the Asiatic peoples a new sense of power, and which impelled the Turks in the near east to emulate the example of the victorious Japanese in the far east.

Not since the Wise Men of the East saw the Star of Bethlehem, not since the Angelic Host charmed the shepherds with their heavenly chorus, not since Jesus was laid in the manger, has there been such a happy Christmas in Palestine as will be celebrated this month. All Christendom will join with the Christians of the Holy Land in the repetition of the good tidings "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

CONSUELO'S ESTATE AMOUNTS TO $1,300,000

LONDON, Dec. 20.—The will of Consuelo, Dowager Duchess of Manchester and one of the first American girls to marry a title, was filed today. The estate amount to over $1,300,000. The duchess bequeathed to Queen Alexandra a magnificent bracelet "as a token of respectful affection."

After providing for the children of her son, the Duke of Manchester, the duchess directs that the residue of the estate be held in trust during the duke's life for the next Duchess of Manchester. To the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals $5,000 is left.

BIG SHELL EXPLODES WHEN SHOT FROM GUN

PENSACOLA, Fla., Dec. 20.—A 417-pound shell exploded at Fort McRae near here when it was but 30 feet from the muzzle of the 8-inch gun from which it had been fired. The force of the explosion shattered glass throughout the post and stopped the dynamo of the gun, but no soldier was injured. It is believed that the projectile, which contained 100 pounds of powder, was too large for the gun.

A HAPPY CHRISTMAS IN THE HOLY LAND

"GOOD TIDINGS OF GREAT JOY" FOR JERUSALEM.

Light of Liberty Has Broken Through Clouds of Religious Intolerance.

I—THRICE HOLY PALESTINE.

By Frederic J. Haskin.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

This, the first Christmas greeting, finds echo this week in the hearts of millions of Christians in all parts of the world who celebrate the birthday of Jesus Christ, the Savior. To each one of these Palestine, that portion of Syria in which is situated Bethlehem, where Jesus was born; Nazareth, where he grew to manhood; and Jerusalem, where he met his death, is the Holy Land. It is also the Holy Land to the millions of Jews who do not accept the faith of the followers of the greatest of the Jews, for Jerusalem is now, as it has been since the day of David, the capital and the Holy City of Israel. Palestine is also the Holy Land to the followers of Mohammed, for Islam, as well as Christianity and Judaism, is builded upon the faith of Abraham, who offered up as a sacrifice his son Isaac upon the Mount Moriah, the hill where stood the Temple of Solomon, where Jesus taught, from whence Mohammed ascended into Heaven, and where today stands the noble dome of the Mosque of Omar.

In the world today there are 400,000,000 Christians, 180,000,000 Mohammedans, and 12,600,000 Jews, making together one-half of the total population of the world, and more than a third of the civilized world, who look upon Palestine as Holy Land. It is a tiny bit of country, perhaps 150 miles long and 50 or 60 miles wide. Within this narrow compass is contained a startling variety of topographical wonders. From the mountains of Lebanon, at the north, stretching to the desert that

MINE OWNER'S SON MURDER DEFENDANT

BOULDER, Colo., Dec. 20.—Leroy Lewis, son of J. T. Lewis, a prominent mine owner of Marshall, was placed on trial in the district court here today for the murder of Mike Clifford, whose body, pierced by two bullets, was found in a saloon at Marshall on November 1. Most of the morning was occupied in the selection of the jury.

GUNNISON MAN KILLS HIMSELF ON A TRAIN

GUNNISON, Dec. 20.—Joseph Parsons, a prominent citizen of Gunnison, committed suicide today by blowing out his brains in the toilet room of a Denver & Rio Grande railroad train. He was returning home from Denver, where he had been receiving medical treatment. Parsons was the youngest son of J. D. Parsons of this city. His wife is the daughter of Judge Sprigg Schackelford of Grand Junction. He is survived by his wife and two children, a son of 3 years and a daughter 4 months old.

HAILED BARONESS LEAVES BELGIUM

DEPARTS WHEN THREATENED WITH EXPULSION.

Princess Louise Acclaimed by the People as She Returns Triumphantly to Brussels.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 20.—Baroness Vaughan, whom Leopold made his queen in fact, if not in name, quietly left Belgium today, her reign ended, her power collapsed, accepting the hint of the government that if she did not depart voluntarily she would be expelled from the country.

The baroness packed up those magnificent furnishings of her chateau, which were the personal gifts of King Leopold, and forwarded them across the frontier. She herself took a train for France.

In spite of dispatches from Italy and other countries asserting that King Leopold and Baroness Vaughan had been married according to the rites of the church, the king's personal friends persist in their disbelief of this, while they characterize the stories of a civil union as pure nonsense.

Prince Albert's happy plan to reunite the exiled and separated family was fulfilled today. As Baroness Vaughan passed out forever from Belgium life, Princess Louise triumphantly entered the city and was officially greeted at the station and acclaimed by the people. She was conducted with royal honors to the Chateau Belvedere, which henceforth will be her official home.

Again today a vast crowd viewed the body of the late king. Many people were incensed that the gates were closed at 3 o'clock, and tried to force an entrance. In the panic people were trodden on, garments were torn and women fainted. Quite a number were arrested. Finally the palace was reopened and the visitors were allowed to file past the catafalque.

PARIS, Dec. 20.—Baroness Vaughan arrived in Paris today from Brussels. A crowd of reporters was gathered at the railroad station to meet her, but she declined to be interviewed.

In an interview this evening, Mr. Picard, the legal adviser of Baroness Vaughan, when asked if the marriage of King Leopold and Baroness Vaughan was effective, replied:

"The baroness has really been married by religious rites; that I can attest."

"Then have the children of the union rights to the throne?"

"Anything may happen, and, believe me, the affair is only beginning."

PARIS, Dec. 20.—Leopold II left an estate of $56,000,000, despatches from Brussels state. Of this $6,000,000 is in art treasures and jewels. Headed by Princess Louise, the royal family has taken steps to contest for the fortune in the courts.

The Baroness Vaughan, to whom was left the bulk of the estate, the "Societe Immobiliere Anonyme" and the Congo Royal Endowment will be defendants. It is believed that Leopold transferred his property before his death as his will mentioned only the $3,000,000 he received from his father, which he in turn bequeathed to his children.

PARR IS THREATENED

Menacing Letters Received by Treasury Agent Who Unearthed Sugar Frauds.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Threats of death by poison and violence against Richard Parr, the special treasury agent who unearthed the sugar frauds on the Williamsburg docks of the American Sugar Refining company, are contained in a letter given out by him tonight, and received, he says, on December 11. The letter follows:

"The editor of the Sun died suddenly. Some prominent men in the customs died suddenly. You have been taken suddenly ill. Beware of poison. (Signed) SUGAR."

Mr. Parr was in fact taken suddenly ill during the recent trial of six former employes of the sugar company a day or two before the letter was written. His illness was supposed to be an affection of the nerves.

Other letters received by him, he said today, contained threats of death and injury by violence. He had been told that he would be pushed off a subway platform in front of a moving train and that he would be shot.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. Ernest W. Gerberecht, former superintendent of the Williamsburg branch of the American Sugar Refining company, was arraigned before Judge Holt in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court today on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government by making underweights on imports of sugar.

He entered a tentative plea of not guilty. Bail was fixed at $10,000 and given by Mrs. Gerbrecht. Gerbrecht was given two weeks in which to withdraw the plea or enter a demurrer to the indictments.

IRRIGATION FROM WELLS POSSIBLE NEAR BRUSH

RAMAH, Colo., Dec. 20.—The system of irrigating by drilling wells in the beds of so-called dry creeks inaugurated by the Western Reclamation company is meeting with unusual success.

The water is lifted by a centrifugal pump, driven by a gasoline engine, and the first test today forced 1,200 gallons per minute into the ditches.

The plant just completed is located on Bijou creek, nine miles north of here. Many similar plants will be installed by the company over the divide country.

WRECKS CAUSED BY CARLESSNESS

BENSON, Ariz., Dec. 20.—That the wreck of the eastbound Golden State Limited near here yesterday was caused by the train running at excessive speed when it struck a curve was the conclusion reached today by a board of inquiry composed of two business men and three Southern Pacific officials.

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Dec. 20.—The coroner's jury at Winona investigating the Santa Fe collision in which Mrs. Alice Bonnett was killed and 50 passengers injured, returned a verdict today that the wreck was caused by criminal carelessness on the part of the Santa Fe company and recommended that the matter be taken up by the next grand jury.

ROOSEVELT SAILS ACROSS LAKE VICTORIA NYANZA

ENTEBBE, Uganda, Dec. 20.—After a delightful voyage across the Victoria Nyanza, Colonel Roosevelt and party arrived here today. At the pier they were met by government officials. A guard of honor for the visitors was made up of Indian sikhs. Colonel Roosevelt and Kermit will be the guests of the governor of Uganda until their departure for Kampala tomorrow.

The colonel expressed himself as astounded at the beauty of the lake and the comfort provided for the steamers passengers.

The steamer on which the party crossed the lake from Kisumu flew the United States flag. It was the first time that the Stars and Stripes had flown over a passenger vessel on the Victoria Nyanza.

During the first seven months of this year over 2,000 people left the United Kingdom for British North America.

THE MAYER

What the Press Agents Say

PRODUCTION OF A GREAT CLASSIC

Louis James will play an engagement of one night only at the Opera House next Tuesday night. He will present on this occasion Shakespeare's famous tragedy of "Henry VIII." Mr. James will be seen as Cardinal Wolsey and Miss Aphie Crewe, his leading woman, will play Queen Katharine. Mr. James is supported by an unusually large company. His scenic production is sumptuous. The drama has been costumed correctly, according to the period of the action of the play.

The spectator who sits comfortably in his seat in the theater possibly never stops to think of the great labor that has been expended in the reviving of a famous old drama as "Henry VIII." In the first place the star must hunt up all the old traditions concerning the drama. He must find out just how every notable actor produced it. Then he must go away back and discover just exactly the dress and costumes of the period. He must learn the history of the age. He must get in touch with the movements of the day, with the events and the ordinary every-day life of the people of the times of the play.

These are but a few of the things that a player must do in reviving an old classic. The memorizing of the lines is but a small part of the task. Especially is this true in the case of "Henry VIII." In this play Shakespeare wrote of actual living personages, recorded in history. Hence the players must give their impersonations of the various characters in such a manner as to recall to the audience not only Shakespeare's people but men and women of history. In this manner the actor is not playing a single role but he is acting a character written by a dozen or so men. He is uttering the author's lines, acting the writer's situations, but he is carrying out a dozen different ideas of the character, joining all the thoughts in such a manner as to give to life a plausible breathing, living, human being.

And yet who is there that ever thinks of all this when he witnesses a smooth, careful portrayal of a great player?

"LITTLE JOHNNY JONES"

When "Little Johnny Jones" come to the Opera House next Monday evening local theatergoers will have an opportunity of seeing one of the best musical comedies George M. Cohan ever wrote. Despite the success of his later productions, Cohan still thinks his first effort to be his best and each season he picks the successor for the title role which he himself once filled with such success. This season the young fellow who plays Johnny Jones was declared by the author to be the best that had ever played the role, excepting of course himself, for, as everyone knows Cohan is modest.

In the first of the three acts we are offered a glimpse of life at the Hotel Cecil in London on the day that the English Derby is to be run and we witness the arrival of the famous jockey, Johnny Jones, and see his public denunciation of a race-track shark who is trying to win the hand of a wealthy American woman by pretending to be a gentleman.

In the second act the docks at Southampton are shown, and the departure for America of all concerned is about to take place when Johnny Jones, who is now in disgrace because of having lost the Derby, is arrested on a false accusation of theft against him. The second scene of this act shows an ocean liner at full speed at sea sending up rockets, which is the signal that the innocence of Johnny Jones has been discovered. The third act is in the Chinese quarter of San Francisco and brings not only justification but a sweetheart to Johnny Jones.

The production is sumptuously mounted, while the cast and chorus numbers over 75 people, and is one of the largest and most expensive organizations on tour this season.

ALL STAR VAUDEVILLE AT OPERA HOUSE

An all-star vaudeville bill is what Manager Nye will present his patrons for four days, three performances daily, commencing tomorrow afternoon. Nothing but feature acts will be seen, and altogether the bill as it now stands is one of the most expensive bills ever offered in this city. Unlike most vaudeville performances it has four big feature acts, instead of a single one as has been the custom in the other houses in this vicinity. It is due to the liberal policy of the Opera House management by supplying real vaudeville that has made the Opera House offerings so popular on the few occasions it has been presented in the past.

"Doc" O'Neil opens the bill with his scream of laughs. His college stories, songs and parodies have been said to be the greatest of their kind. The fact that he played the Keith-Proctor circuit twice in direct succession and was wanted again after the second tour is enough to prove his worth for none but real vaudeville acts are accepted in the east.

Carrie McManus, the Jenny Lind of the west, comes second on the bill. Miss McManus has many followers in this city. Never has such a beautiful voice as hers been heard in vaudeville and the fact that she is to star next season on the Orpheum circuit is a matter of compliment to this clever girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Allison will present their funny comedy, "Minnie From Minnesota." Mrs. Allison created in the New York production of "What Happened to Jones," a part similar to the one she has in the present skit. This act has been seen on the Keith-Proctor circuit in the east and the Orpheum circuit in the west. It is now booked for return dates on the latter circuit.

The fourth great star act is the Primrose quartet with their 1,000 pounds of harmony. A genuine minstrel show in 30 minutes is the nature of the act and the big success in the large cities speaks much for the quality of the entertainment.

SIX BIG PICTURES AT THE CRYSTAL TODAY

"The Red Signal," the daughter of a signalman, assailed by a villain, is rescued by her sweetheart. The villain, with an accomplice, plans to wreck the midnight express train and rob the passengers.

The plot is overheard by a waitress, who informs the heroine.

Meantime, the train wreckers have fixed an obstacle across the railroad tracks. The express is fast approaching, when the brave girl climbs the signal ladder, detaches the red lens and waves it to stop the train.

She succeeds and thereby saves the lives of the passengers and crew, only just in the nick of time.

Scene in the board room of the railway company—congratulations from the president and reward of the heroine.

"Switzerland Conquering the Alps," depicting the perilous ascent of an Alpine peak, 13,670 feet in height, by a route never before attempted. Even the guides were afraid to undertake it, so the risk incurred by the man with the motion picture camera was certainly far greater.

The scenes depicted are as follows:

Engaging guides, leaving Lauterbrunnen, boarding the train for Scheidegg, the mountain railroad and surrounding scenery seen through a telescope, ascent to the Guggi hut, partaking of refreshment, watching a sunset, amidst the terraces of the Guggi glacier, typical Dolomite rocks and treacherous "traverses" warily negotiated, tremendous heights and sheer depths, snow everywhere, camping out on the plateau, resuming the journey over awful chasms and pinnacles, crossing glaciers, ice falls, avalanche, ice cave and seracs, sublime panorama, arrival at the summit.

THOUSANDS MYSTIFIED BY PSYCHIC PHENOMENON

Thousands of people who at yesterday's performance saw Miss Anna Eva Fay at the Majestic were interested and amazed beyond words by the absolutely unexplainable things done by this strange woman, who has well earned the title of being the most wonderful psychic marvel in the world. After seeing and hearing her the ideas of those thousands regarding what thought is, and whether it can be conveyed from one mind to another, must have changed. They must either have denied their own senses or admitted that there are powers, telepathic or psychic, yet to be understood.

At three performances yesterday Miss Fay more than fulfilled all the great expectations of her marvelous gift. She did things that can not be explained on the basis of any known law of science, physical or psychological—things which scientists who have studied and observed her for years have thus far found no explanation for whatever. There is no possibility, it seems, that she does other than receive mental impressions—thought vibrations emanating from the minds of persons in her audience who are total strangers to her, for there is no chance for her to learn the questions asked except in this way.

You and that means anybody—may sit down in your house, where no one can see you, write a question that is of interest to you, tuck it into your inside pocket, and, without telling a soul, walk into the majestic and sit down. While you are sitting there listening to this wonderful woman she is liable to mention your name and to answer your question, as if she had it before her eyes, and knew all about your affairs, instead of being blindfolded, and not knowing you from Adam. Miss Fay did that yesterday, to the satisfaction of the scores whose questions she answered, and the equal astonishment of all who witnessed the performance. And she will do it all the rest of the week.

The first part of her act is really wonderful. It comes early in the performance, because the mental and physical strain is so severe. Tied by the hands, feet, arms and neck by members of the audience, and curtains thrown about her, Miss Fay causes articles to be thrown from her cabinet, plays a stringed instrument, nails a board to a chair, and does other things that make the men who are standing right over her wonder if they have not lost their senses. The expression on the faces of those men yesterday spoke louder than words as to her incomprehensible power.

But Miss Fay is not the only fine feature of the Christmas week program offered by Manager Tammen. There is Dorothy Vaughn, a comedienne who simply brings down the house; Willson and Stoneker, late of Dockstader's minstrels, whose magnificent voices bring them encore after encore. And there are James McCormack and Eleanor Irving, in "A Little of Everything," which is clever and full of laughs. Finally, the moving pictures are full of thrills, and the orchestra program catchy and enjoyable. It is a grand holiday offering.

DR. WUELLNER BREAKING RECORDS

The Wuellner tour of the Pacific coast has broken all records for public enthusiasm. Only Nordica, at a single appearance, has exceeded the receipts at Dr. Wuellner's third concert in San Francisco, December 5. Record receipts are reported from Sacramento, Los Angeles and Redlands, and the tickets for the Portland and Seattle concerts are all sold already.

Dr. Wuellner is the musical sensation of two continents. The magic of his art completely enthralls his audiences and they listen spell-bound to his magnetic delivery. His voice is passionate in the extreme, sensitive and susceptible to each mood of the songs he sings. In range, it is a magnificent baritone, in perfect control, with some stirring low notes, and a high tenor falsetto, wonderfully sweet. Each of his songs bears the stamp of supreme authority, of inspiriation, of an artist who lays bare the very soul of the songs he sings.

Dr. Wuellner gives one of his unique and delightful recitals in Colorado Springs on January 3, under the management of the Musical club.

A sprained ankle will usually disable the injured person for three or four weeks. This is due to lack of proper treatment. When Chamberlain's Liniment is applied a cure may be effected in three or four days. This liniment is one of the best and most remarkable preparations in use. Sold by all dealers.

DOGS ARE STILL AT GLEN EYRIE

The two Great Dane dogs which were the constant companions of the late W. J. Palmer before his death and which since have been offered to the park commission of Denver, upon the consideration that they be carefully cared for in one of the parks as long as they live, are still at Glen Eyrie. Whether they will be sent to Denver, or disposed of elsewhere, or kept at the Palmer home, is a question that has not been answered by Caretaker C. U. Folin. An inquiry made last night was not productive of any information, other than that the dogs have not been sent to Denver.

D. & R. G. WILL ADD SLEEPING CAR SERVICE

Word was received here yesterday that the Denver & Rio Grande railroad has decided to establish a sleeping car service between Pueblo and Alamosa, and that the freight service between Alamosa and Colorado Springs is to be greatly improved. The announcements were made at a meeting of the Pueblo Transportation association in Denver last Saturday, and are of interest in this city, as the traffic between here and San Luis valley points is heavy.

FAIR ASSOCIATION MAY BE ORGANIZED

El Paso County Stock Growers to Also Consider Change in Date of Annual Meeting.

The proposed organization of a fair association and a change of date of the annual meeting to conform with the show, are the two chief subjects to be considered at the annual meeting of the El Paso County Stock Growers association, which will be held in the basement of the court house at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of January 9. Many other important matters, including the subject of the payment of a reward of $200 for the conviction of cattle thieves, will be considered. A number of addresses will be made.

Members of the executive committee will hold a preliminary meeting at 10 o'clock in the morning on the day of the general session.

NEW YEARS SUPPER

W. S. Dunning of Antlers Will Have Orchestra Concert to Welcome New Year.

So successful was the New Years eve supper and entertainment Manager W. S Dunning of the Antlers hotel gave last year that he has decided to repeat the "stunt" this year. Mr. Dunning has planned to send invitations to his friends and the guests of the hotel, and extend his courtesy to the newspaper men of the city by providing them with a special complimentary table, and, in fact, is issuing a general invitation to all who want to come.

The supper will be served at 10.30 o'clock in the evening and Mr. Dunning afterward will introduce his surprises. The program is to be in the nature of a vaudeville entertainment. Fink's orchestra of 12 pieces will furnish the instrumental music and there will be some vocal contributions. With all that has been planned for between 10:30 o'clock and midnight, there is not much chance that Mr. Dunning's guests will grow tired waiting for the new year to make its appearance.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH

An elaborate musical program will be part of the Christmas services, a solemn high mass, to be held at St. Mary's Catholic church at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The choir will sing "Kyrie" and "Gloria" from Farmer's mass and there will be solos by Mrs. W. J. Armstrong and J. E. Dolan. The offertory will be a trio by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Metz and Mr. Dolan. The Rev. Father Godfrey Raber will act as celebrant and the Christmas sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father L. F. Hagus.

In order to accommodate all, four other services will be held at different hours. The first will be at 5 o'clock in the morning. Father Hagus will be celebrant and the choir will sing. The next will be low mass at 6.30 o'clock. Another service comes at 8 o'clock, when Christmas hymns will be sung by a chorus of young ladies. At a 9 o'clock service, the children of St. Mary's school will sing Christmas carols.

NEW SYSTEM DOES AWAY WITH WAITING

The system adopted by Postmaster A J Strachan this year of checking registered parcels as they are received and mailing the receipts to the sender is proving to be most satisfactory. The long lines of waiting people usually seen at the postoffice have practically been eliminated and business is being dispatched with all possible haste by the postoffice employes. Yesterday three windows were opened for registry and money order business.

THUNDERSTORMS WILL WASH AWAY PARASITES

COLD DOES NOT EXTERMINATE COTTONY SCALE.

Dr. W. W. Arnold Discusses Insects That Menace Trees in This City.

That the hundreds and thousands of handsome trees which fill the park and line the avenues of Colorado Springs are imperiled by the cottony scale was learned yesterday. Following a statement of Commissioner J. A. Himebaugh, that he believed the cold weather would have the effect of destroying this parasite, inquiries were made, and the information that this most-dreaded of tree plagues has been rapidly spreading in the city resulted. Several severe thunderstorms, it is said, would do more than all the cold to rid the trees of the pest.

While the cottony scale is most dangerous to maple and other smooth-bark trees, other varieties are not immune from it, and so vicious is the onslaught of the insect that when it has once gained a start, it can, within a comparatively short time, sap the life from the largest and most stately king of the forest.

Those who have made a study of botany and are familiar with the parasitic growths which destroy foliage are of the opinion that the zero weather has not proved any salvation to the trees, and maintain that it is only by careful and thorough washing and spraying that a tree once infected may be freed from the scales.

Dr. W. W. Arnold of this city, who is an authority upon the subject, said last night:

"The cottony is one of the most deadly of scales. So alarming has its spread been in the United States of recent years that the government has systematically studied it, and has found it is a native of China. Its origin was first traced to California, from there to Japan, and then into China. There it is at home. But this is where the difference in the situation comes. In China, while the cottony scale is prevalent, the lady bug is even more common, and the latter will exterminate the former if given a chance. For this reason, the parasite is practically harmless in its native land, while in this country, where the lady bug is common enough, it does not gain the supremacy over the cottony.

"The spread of the scale is rapid. The little cotton-like balls seen adhering to the tree are exuded by the parent insect, and in each of these as many as 60,000,000 eggs are deposited. When these are hatched, the young insects fasten themselves to the under side of the branches, where they pierce the bark and suck the sap from the tree. A tree thus infected becomes dwarfed and in some instances is killed outright.

"There are preparations with which a tree may be sprayed and further growth of the cottony scale prevented. But for that matter they can be washed from the bark with a strong stream of water quite as effectively.

"I do not think that the cold weather, no matter if it were to be arctic in temperature, would remedy the trouble. In the first place, the apparent signs of the parasite are last year's insects, which are already dead. The eggs, which hatch in the spring, at this time of the year could not be killed with any amount of cold. What we need is a few good, heavy thunderstorms, and most of the scales would disappear."

M'MILLEN DENIES STORIES ABOUT HIM

K. E. McMillen of Amo, who was arrested several days ago when he took a rabbit to the turnkey at the county jail, has written a letter regarding his case. In the letter McMillen denies that Mrs. Sarah Williams, whose home he was charged with burglarizing and then setting fire to, is his divorced wife. He also denies that a reference in a former story to "his friend J. D. Curtis" is true, and says that the man mentioned is directly opposed to his views.

In closing his letter, McMillen says: "I wish to state that I am ready to account for my acts as soon as given opportunity to do so, and will make the statement that there won't be a shadow of a doubt of my innocence of the charges against me."

SAW STEAM AND THOUGHT IT FIRE

Excited Woman Caused Many to Believe Bank Building Was Burning Again.

A cry of fire in a shrill feminine voice from the office room of the Portland Mining company on the fourth floor of the First National Bank building yesterday afternoon resulted in the arrival of two hose teams, and no little excitement among the large throng of holiday shoppers. The alarm was the result of a frightened woman who saw steam escaping from one of the windows. The steam was from a radiator. The chemical was taken up to the scene of the trouble, and for a time it was rumored that the building, which was partly burned several weeks ago, was again on fire. The woman was never found.

TURKEY PRICES HIGH

Some Dealers Charging 30 Cents a Pound—Risk Demand for Fowls.

The advance guard of Christmas turkeys has arrived and many orders were placed with commission men and butchers of the city yesterday. The price of the turkey this year is in the neighborhood of 30 cents a pound, it is said, while ducks and geese are being sold on the market at 25 cents a pound. Notwithstanding the high price, it is believed that more turkeys will be consumed in the city on Christmas this year than ever before.

IS GOING BACK TO FATHERLAND

Homesick to see the fatherland again, Mrs Wilhelmina Blair yesterday purchased a ticket for Coblenz, Germany, and will set out on the homeward journey Christmas day. The little woman told Merle S. Gilbert, city ticket agent for the Colorado & Southern, that she was just as anxious to get to America as she now is to return home. As she quaintly expressed it, there is "too much rustle and bustle in this city."

ATROPOS HUMOR.

An Admirer's Bungled Flattery. Wrong Play to Welcome a Judge.

From Tit-Bits

Most of us are acquainted with Punch's joke concerning the son of the house who, as he gallantly escorted the beauty of the evening to her carriage, rushingly remarked "I have been waiting all the evening for this moment."

It is an example of bungled flattery which compares very favorably with the remark of an unlucky admirer of the great French actress, Mme. St. Denis. Her performance of "Zara" had just been greeted with enthusiastic applause and as she stepped from the stage she said, "To act that well a woman should be young and handsome." "Ah, no, madam!" exclaimed the unfortunate man, in his anxiety to pay the highest compliment possible. "You are convincing proof to the contrary."

Twice in one evening the great novelist, Charles Dickens, was guilty of an embarrassing malapropism. "I have distinguished myself in two respects lately," he wrote to a friend, explaining the matter. "I took a young lady unknown down to dinner and talked to her about the Bishop of Durham's nepotism in the matter of Mr. Cheese. I found she was Mrs. Cheese. And I expatiated to the member for Marylebone, Lord Fermoy, generally conceiving him to be an Irish member on the contemptible character of the Marylebone constituency and Maryle-bone representatives."

Even these situations, however, are not quite so embarrassing as that of a member of parliament who at a certain political reception remarked to a neighbor, "I wonder who that homely old woman is over there?" pointing out a rather stout lady at the other end of the room.

"That sir," was the reply, "is my wife."

Still Worse

"Oh, no, no!" stammered the confused parliamentarian. "I mean the person standing on her right."

"Indeed! That is my daughter!"

The first Baron Kenyon was rather fond of telling the story of how, while on circuit with Justice Rook, they entered a village just in time to accompany the population to the little village church. The parish clerk, anxious to have the congregation give due appreciation of the honor conferred by the presence of the distinguished jurists, gave out two verses of one of the metrical psalms, "Speak O ye judges of the earth, if just your sentence be, or must not innocence appeal to heaven from your decrees? Your wicked hearts and judgments are alike by malice swayed; your grip'ing hands by mighty bribes to wrong betrayed."

By this time most of the village had woke up to the appropriateness of the psalm and remained silent, allowing the children and a few women to continue the second verse.

details of the program. All parties understand that the investigation must be of such a character as to leave in the public mind not the slightest doubt of its thoroughness and impartiality.

Mr. Ballinger is impatient of delay and is said to have urged that a resolution providing for a congressional investigation be presented in the Senate tomorrow. It is understood tonight that he has been overruled on that point and that the exceedingly complex task of fixing the form of the inquiry will be threshed out between now and the re-convening of Congress on January 4.

Investigation to Be Public.

It is not unlikely that the investigation will be put in the hands of a joint special committee representing both houses of Congress. Ordinarily an investigation of this character would fall to the committee on public lands in one house or the other. These committees are made up, however, largely of men from western states who have in one way and another taken sides in the controversy and whose interests might be regarded as possibly interfering with an unbiased judgment.

One thing appears certain—the investigation, whoever makes it—must be relentless and everybody seems agreed that it must be absolutely public; it is admitted that anything in the nature of "star chamber" proceedings would satisfy no one.

The entire department of the interior so far as it concerns public lands and mineral and water rights, it is agreed, must be bared to the searchlight, from the time when Mr. Ballinger was commissioner general of the land office under the Roosevelt administration down to the present moment.

The position of Mr. Ballinger and his friends goes beyond any question of personal controversy and they and those who voice the attitude of the administration disavow any desire to "convict somebody else" as a means of vindicating the secretary of the interior. For instance, it is positively declared that the interests of the department of agriculture and its forest service, of which Gifford Pinchot is chief, will be recognized as having an important stake in this business, since much of this unhappy controversy has concerned matters in which the forest service was more or less directly involved.

ages and reparation in the premises as may be just."

The resolution follows in the footstep of a Nicaragua measure recently introduced by Representative Sulzer of New York. Both measures will be considered by the foreign affairs committee of the House.

Message From Estrada.

"Peace in this country can only be assured by the complete exclusion of Zelaya and his followers. We will continue fighting until this is secured. In the name of liberty and of justice on our side we ask you to recognize my government."

This message from General Estrada, at the head of the revolutionary army in Nicaragua, has been received by the secretary of state.

An official dispatch from Managua shows that considerable hostility is being displayed against the American consulate there by Zelaya's followers. Petty annoyances, such as abusive language and daily threats, are of constant occurrence, but no actual violence up to this time has been attempted.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 20.—Hypodermic injections of salt water, or of chile sauce, or in extreme cases a mixture of both, was a form of torture attributed to President Zelaya of Nicaragua by Marshall R. O'Neill, civil engineer and soldier of fortune, who is now in this city. He says 18 men and women were arrested in connection with a conspiracy and were tortured in this manner.

PRESIDENT GRATIFIED

in his administration, President Taft offered the post to President Eliot of Harvard university. Mr. Eliot considered the matter for some weeks and finally declined.

Mr. Reid visited Mr. Taft at Beverly last summer and it was generally understood that at that time he would continue in the diplomatic service until a successor could be found. So far the President has not been able to select the man he considers in every way fitted to succeed Mr. Reid. When, recently in consultation with Secretary Knox regarding the diplomatic list, the British post was reached, the President asked that it be passed for the time being. Thus the matter stands.

Dr. David Jayne Hill, ambassador to Germany, returned to his post at Berlin recently after a trip to this country, without any definite knowledge as to whether he was to be retained by President Taft. As no successor to Dr. Hill appeared among the diplomatic appointments today, it is presumed he will continue to serve indefinitely.

Regarding the statement that Ambassador Straus at Constantinople and Ambassador Rockhill at St. Petersburg would retire at the end of two years service, Secretary Knox said today there was no basis for such suggestion.

Depew Pays Respects to La Follette.

The principal feature of the Senate proceedings was a speech laden with optimism and good cheer for the Christmas season by Senator Depew.

He deplored the pessimistic prophesies with which newspapers and magazines he said are burdened. He added that on the eve of Christmas he wished to scatter a little sunshine to prove that the American people never had greater reason to be grateful."

He took up and humorously criticised the Christmas number of Senator La Follette's magazine in which he (Depew) and President Taft were severely arraigned. He expressed the hope that when the Wisconsin senator "should repose in his easy chair, with his hands gently clasped across the resting place of his Christmas dinner, he would be favored by good digestion and take a more optimistic view of life."

Senator Depew then proceeded to tell what a glorious thing the new tariff law is and the great benefit it has been to the country.

Proceedings in House.

For the first time since the Fitzgerald rule providing for a "unanimous consent" calendar was adopted, that rule was invoked today in the House and one joint resolution making available a small appropriation for the improvement of the Tennessee river and a bill of local interest were passed.

Representative Mondell of Wyomming spoke at length against the proposition to give the federal government control of dams and water power rights in the different states, defended Secretary Ballinger in that connection and vigorously assailed the action of "certain government bureaus in attempting to usurp rights belonging to the people."

The District of Columbia appropriation bill carrying about $10,275,000 was passed without opposition.

Representative Hardy of Texas, in addressing the House today in support of his resolution asking for the investigation of printed charges of corruption of members of Congress and of the subsidizing of the press in connection with ship subsidy, vigorously assailed the papers that had printed the charges.

He said he had no idea that any member of Congress had been bribed in connection with ship subsidy legislation, but he thought Congress ought not to allow itself to be "bespattered" without investigating the subject.

"The public ought to know the irresponsible source of these foul charges," said Mr. Hardy.

OPPOSITION GOES AS PAVING IS EXPLAINED

lem and it is believed that he will be one of its strongest advocates.

Thomas Hughes, a pioneer of the city and a property owner, declared himself in favor of brick as a paving. He said that paving the business part of the city will not put an end to the dust. The present gravel streets for the present are satisfactory to him.

Paving Men Present.

The greater part of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of the merits and demerits of asphalt, sarco and bitulithic paving. P. R. Quinlan, secretary of the Warner-Quinlan Asphalt company of Syracuse, N. Y.; W. A. Levering, treasurer of the Standard Asphalt and Rubber company of Chicago, and Frank Cutter, general agent and assistant to the president of the Warren Brothers company, Boston, addressed the conference. Mr. Quinlan offered to guarantee asphalt pavement for five or 10 years. Mr. Levering represented the sarco paving, which is being used extensively in the park districts of Chicago, and which is one of the most modern pavements known. Rubber, which enters largely into its composition, makes sarco paving practically noiseless and also prevents slipping of horses or vehicles in wet weather. It has a range in temperature of 200 degrees, thus making it impervious to extreme heat or cold. Mr. Cutter spoke in the interest of bitulithic paving.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was attended by the committee of 11, the Mayor, commissioners and two score interested taxpayers. If the committee of 11 can arrange to meet today, it will submit a report to the Council tomorrow morning.

ENTOMBED IN MINE A WEEK WITHOUT FOOD

MARQUETTE, Mich., Dec. 20.—Two of the four men who were entombed in the Negaunee mine a week ago today by a fall of mud, were reached tonight. Frank Cudello was found alive and Peter Mundi dead. The other men have not yet been reached.

Cudello is in good condition. He was buried in a space only a few feet square, and was without food. He had plenty of water, however, and when he was taken out he was able to walk with one man supporting him.

MONTANA INDICTMENTS.

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 20.—The federal grand jury, after having been out nearly a month, during which 70 cases were considered today returned 93 indictments. Among these are 17 Helena saloonkeepers charged with selling liquor to Indian witnesses before the grand jury and two white slavery cases.

COUNCIL CONSIDERS PURCHASE OF LAND

WOULD CONTROL PIKES PEAK HEADQUARTERS.

Money Enough to Run City Through Year—May Establish Blacksmith Shop.

In a letter to the City Council J. A. Grimison, of Schuyler, Neb owner of the Half Way house on Pikes Peak and representative of the owners of adjoining property, yesterday offered to sell to the city 480 acres of land on the south slope of the Peak adjoining the city's watershed, for $12,500. The land takes in the headwaters of Sheep, Cabin and Ruxton creeks, which form a part of the city's water supply and the Half Way house, which yields a rental of $500 a year Should the deal be consummated, the city will own the headwaters of all streams forming its water supply except South Ruxton and Bear creeks The land will be fenced off and policed. The question of accepting the offer will be discussed later by the Council It is understood that the city will try to buy all the land in question with the exception of the Half Way house and a few surrounding acres

The city auditor's report read at the meeting shows that the city has enough money to carry it through the year. Expenditures for this month are being limited generally to the payment of salaries. Commissioner Whitaker is trying to pay $2,200 out of the present appropriation for repairs to the fire engine and $4,874.38 must come out of the cemetery fund to pay for the new mortuary chapel at Evergreen cemetery. Following are the balances in the various departments for this month.

Finance	$2,937.43
Water	6,027.53
Police	5,209.93
Fire	4,405.27
Public Buildings	3,451.47
Engineer	1,695.36
Streets	4,243.61
Health	1,444.33
Market Master	230.70
Sewers	909.99
Cemetery	6,300.36

The question of establishing a city blacksmith shop to shoe horses used by the fire and police departments, to sharpen tools and do repair work for the city, was also discussed. Although no definite action was taken, it is believed that the commissioners are in favor of the plan. At the present, the charter provides that all blacksmith work must be done by contract.

Copies of an ordinance providing for the purchase of supplies were yesterday inspected by the Council, preliminary to the introduction of the measure The ordinance provides that commissioners make contracts for supplies not exceeding $50. All expenditures above this figure must be ratified by the Council. At the present time, all orders for supplies must be signed by the Mayor. Superintendents and foremen in charge of city property will be required to submit an inventory of the property in their possession every three months

GREAT BRITAIN HAS TOO MANY WOMEN

Shortage in the Colonies, but This Does Not Help the Old Country

From the San Francisco Chronicle

LONDON—According to the estimates of the census statisticians the superfluous women for whom the delegates to the National Conference of Women Workers at Southsea tried to plan a happy future numbered 1,244,688 at the middle of the present year

The problem of the superfluous woman by no means troubles every town. In Devonport, for instance, there are 981 women for every 1,000 men. In Barrow-in-Furness 977 and in Rhondda only 826, while the feminine element is in a minority in only important area of Wales, the city of London Southwark, Woolwich, Poplar Stepney, West Bromwich St Helens etc

The superfluous woman makes her home in pleasanter places—in health resorts on the south coast, in Bath the city of fashion and in the royal borough of Kensington where there are 1357 women to every 1,000 men In Bournemouth the disparity between the sexes is even greater th women numbering 1719 to each 1,000 men

If England has its superfluous women however the colonies use their surplus men as the continental matchmakers pointed out. There are more men than women in every state in the Australian commonwealth according to statistics for the quarter ending June men predominate to the number of 232,896 in the antipodes

In Canada according to the latest statistics, there is a surplus of 172,160 men The superfluous women might also turn their attention to South Africa, with the exception of the Orange River county where women are in a majority

Up to the beginning of this year Virginia had produced more than one-half of the manganese ore mined in the United States

The Craftsman Magazine

A Craftsman Exterior

Make Your House a Craftsman Home

At last there is a simple and permanently satisfying style of American home
It is called The Craftsman Style
The account of its growth and how, by leaving out all useless decoration, it gives you a better home for the same money is interesting to every family
When you build or furnish, don't copy your neighbor Bring out your own individuality by planning to meet the needs of your household in the most direct way
The Craftsman literature does not think for you, but teaches you to think in such a way as to know what is worth while Craftsman literature consists of the illustrated monthly magazine, edited and published by Gustav Stickley, the well-known artist and builder, and Mr Stickley's new book "Craftsman Homes."
He ides many interesting articles on the arts and handicrafts The Craftsman publishes each month illustrations, floor plans and descriptions of two Craftsman homes
"Craftsman Homes" is a collection of the best of the house plans building suggestions and hints on furnishing and decoration The houses shown, costing from $1 000 to $15,000, illustrate Mr Stickley's ideas on domestic architecture Chapters of practical instruction on furniture making metal work and the treatment of native woods will be particularly valuable to those anxious to do a little of the actual decoration of the home themselves.
During the holidays we make the following attractive combination offer

The Craftsman for a year	$3 00	Both for
"Craftsman Homes"	$2 00	$3.75

If your dealer cannot supply you, we will. If before sending your $3 75 you want to know more about the offer, write us at once for a specimen copy of The Craftsman and a little circular which tells you all about "Craftsman Homes" We will send them with at cost

BECOMES ATTACHED TO SANITARY FOUNTAIN

Frank Wolff Loses Cuticle, However, When He Tries to Disengage Himself.

Frozen to the mouthpiece of his new sanitary fountain, Frank Wolff of the firm of Kinsman & Wolff, the local realty dealers, found himself in one of the most peculiar positions in his life yesterday He intended taking a drink from the fountain and failed to note it was located in an unheated part of the office As a result his tongue and lips became firmly attached to the affair, and he was held fast until his partner, with a pail of hot water came to the rescue.

In leaving the fountain, Wolff left behind him the greater part of the cuticle on his lips and tongue, and is now of the opinion that sanitary fountains are not the thing for winter, unless they are in a warm room.

BECOMES MANAGER OF THE MINING RECORD

Harry J. Newton of Denver, who is well known in Colorado Springs, is to become manager and editor of the Mining Record, published in that city, according to a report received here yesterday. The paper has been managed and edited by E. G. and Nelson Reinert, although Mr. Newton for some time has had an interest in it. Messrs. Reinert will not sever their connection with the publication, it is said, but will turn over the entire management and editorial work to Mr. Newton, who at different times published and edited the magazines, Profit and Loss, and Gold.

DATE OF M'CLURG LECTURE IS CHANGED

Gilbert McClurg, who was to have lectured in the High school auditorium for the benefit of the High school Athletic association on December 22, will speak there on the evening of December 28 instead. Mr. McClurg will speak on the subject "O Brave New World of Texas."

STORES OPEN NIGHTS

Number of Business Houses Down Town Arrange to Accommodate With Later Hours.

Most of the stores in the city will be open evenings this week for the accommodation of Christmas shoppers. No agreement has been made, however. Butcher shops and grocery stores will prove the exception to the rule, and only be open Friday night, closing then at 10 o'clock. Among those who will be open every night to Christmas eve, inclusive, are Pelta's, Kaufman's, Wilbur's, Appel's and Hibbard's. Giddings' will be open evenings, beginning tomorrow night.

LODGE MAN DIES

J. B. King, Formerly of Elbert, Colo. Was Well-Known in This City.

Word has been received from Los Angeles of the death of Dr. J. B. King, former editor of the Elbert county Tribune at Elbert, Colo., and well-known in Colorado Springs. Dr. King was stricken with apoplexy on December 15, and died before medical aid could be summoned.

Dr. King went to the California city to pass the winter with his wife and daughters. He engaged in the mercantile business for a short time, but recently retired. He was 63 years of age, owner of a business block, and a member of the Odd Fellows, Masons, Knights of Pythias and Woodmen of the World.

Many persons find themselves affected with a persistent cough after an attack of influenza. As this cough can be promptly cured by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, it should not be allowed to run on until it becomes troublesome. Sold by all dealers.

PRELIMINARY WORK ON NEW THEATER STARTED

The preliminary work of clearing away the small buildings standing on the site where the new Burns theater is to be erected is proceeding with all possible haste. A large force of men has been at work for several days, and it is expected that the actual excavating for the new building will be begun soon. The estimated cost of the theater is $200,000. A contract has practically been closed with the Shuberts whereby Colorado Springs will see the same companies that play in the east.

A Thrilling Rescue.

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheny, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." GREAT NEED OF CLOTHES

Various Organizations Supplying Poor Find Cold Weather Drains Their Stocks.

The last two weeks of cold weather has been a drain on those whose business it is to supply wearing apparel to the poor. The headquarters of the Associated Charities, in the Hagerman building, have been overrun for a week. Many have applied for clothing and food.

The stock of the Salvation Army store at 124 East Huerfano street is almost exhausted in certain lines, and it is announced that unless the organization is able to replenish it, applicants for clothing will have to be turned away.

Collections being made by the Salvation Army for its Christmas dinners are not turning out as well as was expected. Despite the fact that the kettles, which were placed on the street corners, are painted a bright red, to catch the eye, and accompanied by large placards, and that a member of the corps has braved the cold weather and stood by each one, ringing a bell, the donations so far barely have exceeded $300. Those who have charge of the campaign for funds are beginning to despair of raising the fund needed for Christmas dinners, unless the cold weather moderates and a greater liberality is shown.

HEXAMETHYLENETETRAMINE.

The above is the name of a German chemical which is one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as soon as you notice any irregularities and avoid a serious malady. Sold by all druggists.

MUST HAVE 90 DAYS

At a meeting of the park commission yesterday, it was decided that 90 days is the shortest length of time in which the city can legally acquire South Cheyenne canon. An effort will be made to secure an extension of the option, which expires February 10. The commissioners will confer with the Mayor and members of the Council relative to negotiations for the purchase of the canon for $217,000.

The peculiar properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have been thoroughly tested during epidemics of influenza, and when it was taken in time we have not heard of a single case of pneumonia. Sold by all dealers.

TOO MANY WRECKS.

ALMOST every day of the last two weeks has brought its report of a disastrous railroad wreck somewhere in the United States East or West, North or South—it does not seem to be a matter of locality, or of one railroad system as compared with another. A broken rail on the Southern Railway sent a fast train off a high trestle, causing several deaths, and on the same day a train on the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul jumped the track, injuring several passengers. These are only two instances of many that have occurred this month.

The annual reports of the Interstate Commerce Commission show that the number of deaths and injuries in railroad wrecks does not vary much from year to year. Examination of the statistics may reveal a marked improvement for two or three years, but the next two or three years will probably show a steady increase in the mortality rate, so the average remains about the same. Each year our great transportation lines kill and maim more people than were sacrificed on land and sea in the Spanish-American War and in the succeeding Philippine Rebellion. Moreover, comparing the death and injury rate with like figures for European railroads it is apparent that American lines have much to learn from those across the water in this vital matter of protecting the safety of the traveling public and the employe.

Without doubt there are two sides to the question. The railroad manager lays a part of the blame on the public. It insists, and will have, fast trains. It is willing to take a chance, preferring to "get there" a few minutes earlier than to take a slower, and, presumably, safer train.

CONDITIONS HERE AND ABROAD.

Again, attention is called to the relation between our large mileage and liability to accident. In the United States we have a little more than ten times the railroad mileage of Great Britain, and it is plainly impossible, especially in the West, to maintain track and equipment at the high standard which prevails abroad. In England, and in fact almost everywhere in Europe, there are no grade crossings, no wooden bridges, and especially no such defective methods of signaling and train dispatching as are common in this country. But the per mile earnings of the railroads are so much larger that the cost of using every known method of insuring safety is more easily borne there than it is here.

Perhaps, though, some conclusions on this subject may be drawn from the experience of the late E. H. Harriman. When he bought the Union Pacific some ten or twelve years ago it was little better than the proverbial "two streaks of rust and a mortgage." Almost any other railroad man would have tried to make it pay by following a policy of retrenchment, but Harriman decided otherwise. He spent money lavishly—recklessly, his critics said—and the results justified his theory. Whenever he found a new way to improve the road he adopted it. He spent hundreds of millions in cutting out curves and reducing grades, replacing flimsy bridges with solid fills or with permanent stone bridges. In a dozen ways he increased the factor of safety, and only a few days ago it was announced that the Union Pacific had ordered a number of steel passenger coaches, and would hereafter fully equip its line with coaches of this type, as fast as the old ones are withdrawn from service.

The pursuit of this policy has cost a great deal of money, but it has produced dividends for the company and safeguarded the lives of passengers and employes. There is not the slightest doubt that if all other railroad companies followed Mr. Harriman's example there would be an early and substantial decrease in the number of wrecks and consequently in the number of killed and injured. Absolute safety in railroading can never be attained, but the fact has already been demonstrated that the present accident rate is much greater than it need be.

THE BELGIAN SQUABBLE.

THE obloquy which King Leopold's life brought to Belgium continues after his death. Even before the breath had left the body of the aged ruler a quarrel began between his three daughters and his morganatic wife on the one hand and his morganatic wife on the other. It is declared that the Baroness Vaughan will insist upon official recognition of the illegitimacy of her children, with full allowance of the claim of the eldest to succession to the throne. But this is plainly an absurdity for even if Leopold's favorite is fully recognized as his morganatic wife the fact in itself can not establish a valid claim to the throne for her offspring. The more probable supposition is that the Baroness Vaughan will limit her ambitions to an attempt to obtain the major part of the late King's fortune, estimated at $56,000,000.

What a disgusting business the whole affair is! Here was a man gifted by nature with extraordinary ability. In the realm of finance he possessed talents such as are given to few men. It is true that even if he had been a private citizen instead of a King he doubtless would have made his mark in the business world. He had administered as an executive his country. In short, he possessed every attribute of a wise and beneficent monarch, save moral character, and of this he had none. His moral nature was simply a howling wilderness, and now that he is dead the world is about to receive further demonstration of the ancient truth that a man can not live this sort of a life without suffering for it or making somebody else suffer.

THE SINS OF THE FATHER.

King Leopold did not suffer—his moral nature was so obtuse that he was incapable of experiencing that sensation—but he left a legacy of evil that will make his country suffer for years to come. But even before the country feels its effects his immediate family must pay the penalty of his sins. His exiled daughters have returned to Belgium to rehabilitate the name he besmirched and first of all they find that to do this they must engage in a battle with the morganatic wife of their father—a woman who, except for her alliance with the late King, would have been utterly beneath notice.

Press reports from Brussels in the next few weeks will tell a sordid story, the moral of which is as old as time—the story of the wages of sin. To Americans there is consolation in the reflection that here we have nothing of the sort to contend with. Whatever may be the shortcomings of the individuals whose derelictions are occasionally paraded in the newspapers via the divorce court route, we may feel assured that at all times the private lives of our rulers are far removed from the touch of scandal. Belgium tolerated King Leopold on its throne for forty-four years to a day, and throughout that time it knew full well that he was a contemptible reprobate. The United States would not tolerate a President of like moral caliber for a month, much less elevate him to office with knowledge of his shortcomings. After all, the ideals of domestic virtue which form a part of Anglo-Saxon civilization are far, far ahead of the ideals of some of our continental cousins.

WOOD BLOCK PAVING.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Albert F. Keeney, president of the board of local improvements, urged the recommendation of creosote blocks by the committee.

Property owners pay for the paving and know what they want, and are entitled to what they want, he said. Asphalt in Indiana is impracticable because street cars run in that street. It lasts but a few years. Take the street from Twenty-second to Thirty-ninth, where it was paved with asphalt only five years ago. It now needs a new pavement. Creosoted blocks will stand the heavy traffic.

The above was taken from the Chicago Tribune of last week. I hope you will copy it in Open Parliament.

W. H. BACON.

Colorado Springs, Dec. 20.

NO FRILLS WANTED.

From the New York Herald.

Next week the adjective "early" must be dropped. It will be plain "Christmas shopping."—Washington Star.

Hope it will be "plain." We still have plenty of those rainbow neckties and unusable handkerchiefs in storage from last Christmas.

AN IMPORTANT EXCEPTION.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

Further demonstration of the use of the stovaine-strychnine anesthetic by Dr. Jonnesco at Philadelphia has developed an important qualification. Two of three operations were successful, but in the third ether had to be administered before the operation could be completed. Dr. Jonnesco explains this by saying that the operating surgeon worked too slowly that his own operations are performed much more quickly, so that the period of analgesia is sufficient. This period he puts at from 40 to 50 minutes long enough for ordinary minor operations, but too short for many.

Manifestly it would be improper to hurry an operation to bring it within the scope of the new anesthetic. If ether has to be administered also the use of stovaine seems superfluous. The exception revealed at Philadelphia does not, of course, disprove the value of Jonnesco's discovery, although it limits it. It confirms the conservative withholding of judgment by the New York surgeons, who, while admitting that the demonstrations there seemed to establish Dr. Jonnesco's claims, suggested that the public reserve acceptance of it at face value until it had been further tested.

"SPREAD OF INTELLIGENCE."

From the Kansas City Journal.

One of the most important sections in President Taft's first annual message has received little or no attention. The President declares that much more than half of the $63,000,000 deficit in the postal department might be saved by imposing on magazines and other periodicals a higher rate of postage than they pay at present. He submits very conclusive figures to prove his contention and incidentally shows that newspapers pay four times as much as the magazine and periodicals, based on the distance carried. All second-class matter is carried for the same rate 1 cent per pound but the average "haul" for the magazines is 1,049 miles and of miscellaneous periodicals 1,128 miles while the average distance over which newspapers are delivered to their customers through the mails is only 291 miles.

The magazines weigh much more than the newspapers and they contain a very much higher percentage of advertising matter as compared with reading matter, while they are carried from three and one-half to four times as far for the same postage as is collected from the daily press. The injustice of any such a discrepancy is apparent at a glance, though the problem need not be solved by inflicting any ruinous injury on the magazines. Yet if a choice had to be made, no one will deny that the people could much better dispense with the magazines and miscellaneous periodicals than with their daily papers.

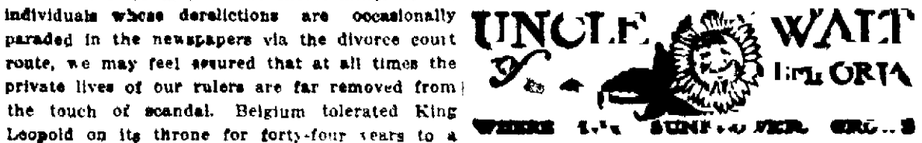
THE NICARAGUAN COMPLICATION.

From the Washington Star.

Nothing exceeding the Nicaraguan situation for complexity has developed in the international field for a long time. The United States has been compelled to announce its unwillingness to maintain further formal relations with the chief executive of that republic, owing to the manner in which the rights of certain of its citizens were violated. This government, therefore, notified the accredited minister from Nicaragua that he could no longer be recognized at this capital and tendered him his passports, though granting him the privilege of remaining as an unofficial representative of his country, at the same time extending a similar privilege to the representative of the insurgents now occupying a considerable portion of the Nicaraguan territory. Warships have been sent to Nicaraguan waters, with a sufficient force of marines for effective shore duty in case of need.

Meanwhile the case takes an unexpected turn, threatening to place the United States in an embarrassing position. The troops of the Zelaya government become aggressive and menace the position of the Estradists. A successful turning movement by the Zelayists would possibly compel the United States to intervene in force, in order to forestall the complete and unquestioned establishment in power of the men whom it has publicly and emphatically denounced as one with whom it is impossible to maintain diplomatic relations.

Just at this psychological moment of difficulty comes word of an outbreak of revolutionary sentiment in the capital of Nicaragua, a natural expression of feeling long suppressed by the tyrannical methods of the dictator president. Thus far the manifestation has been kept within the limits of mere demonstration and speech making, but it is feared that at any time the insurgent spirit will develop aggressively with consequent bloodshed. Zelaya is undoubtedly master of the case as long as he can trust to the loyalty of his troops. If the army is disaffected he may find himself caught between his own forces and the inflamed populace. His flight from the capital would settle the question in one sense and unsettle it in another, for his withdrawal before the secure establishment of a successor in the field or in the seat of government would probably precipitate a secondary civil strife between the factions.



WHERE THE SUNFLOWER GROWS

Do your Christmas shopping early, do it early, mother dear; buy these gift cigars ere the cabbage leaves are here, get the fancy ties for brother, all hand painted nice and sweet, while the holly is in the windows and the jum-cracks fill the street. Buy the cook an inlaid poker, lift the milkman from the dumps, get him, mother dear, some ribbons pale pink ribbons for his pumps. Let us then be up and doing, bright and early, mother dear; we must buy cut glass and china for our brothers' Christmas cheer; we must do our shopping early, buy the toys with pigment paint, so that dearest little Willie may curl up and be a saint. Hook me up, my dearest mother, put my state wide hat on straight, we must hasten, we must hurry, or we'll be alas too late, ere the celluloid cuff boxes and the plush-bound tomes of lore, and the four-cent Christmas greeting all are gone for ever more. So let's hustle, dearest mother, let us swiftly hit the pike, to our Christmas shopping early let us make a gentle hike.

THE FINAL APPEAL

WALT MASON.

Copyright 1909, by George Matthew Adams.

The Daily Chit-Chat

Did you ever realize what a very good thing it is to speak well of your enemies and rivals?

From a utilitarian, not a moral, standpoint I mean.

When you say a kind thing about a man whom the listener knows you have reason to dislike, you may incidentally do him some good but do yourself infinitely more.

Bring it home to yourself. When you hear a man speak well of his rival don't you feel a glow of admiration for him, out of all proportion to your feelings for the man he eulogizes?

In the same way, speaking ill of an enemy is apt to hurt you more than it does him. It does not matter whether you are right or not. Nobody loves a mud slinger whether the object at which he flings the mud deserved to be muddied or not.

Talk with half a dozen people about the Cook-Peary controversy, for instance. Five out of the six will say, "I don't know who is right, but my sympathies are with Cook. I don't like the way Peary talked."

And if any one of the six is particularly well informed about the controversy he may add, "Did you know what Cook said when he was told that Peary had been to the pole? He said, 'If Commander Peary says he has been to the pole he has been there.' That's the right way for a man to talk about his rival, instead of calling him names the way Peary did."

Even in Peary's home city, where I went to interview the commander's wife, that's the way the people talked.

Myself, though I do not like Cook personally as well as I do Peary, I cannot even write down that sentence of Cook's without feeling a thrill of admiration—the same kind of delightful quiver that you feel up and down your spine when after the big game is over the rival teams cheer each other.

Peary may be in the right, but I doubt if he ever gets the sympathy of the general public.

Cook may be entirely wrong, but I donbt if anything will ever make the general public believe it.

And all because one man spoke against his rival and the other either spoke good things or held his tongue.

No man who wants to win a woman's love should ever say anything but good of his rival.

I do not think that women as a rule are chivalrous enough to stick to such a course themselves. If they do not say unkind things they are pretty apt to insinuate them. But I do think that they admire the men who are honorable haters.

"From utilitarian not a moral, standpoint," I said above.

But that doesn't mean that I deprecate the moral motive by any means.

If you can speak well of your enemies and rivals because you know it is right that is very splendid.

But if you can't—well, try to remember that it pays.

Graham Muffins—Mix one cupful of whits with two cupfuls of graham flour and one tablespoonful of sugar. Beat one egg light without separating, and add to it two cupfuls of sweet milk. Mix with the flour, add three tablespoonfuls of baking powder. Turn the mixture into greased muffin pans and bake for twenty-five minutes in a moderately hot oven.

Corn Pone—Put four cupfuls of cornmeal in a bowl, add one-half of a teaspoonful of salt and pour over it sufficient boiling water to scald thoroughly without reducing it to a mush, add one tablespoonful of butter and stir through it evenly, then stand aside until cold. Add two well-beaten eggs and one pint of thick sour milk. Dissolve one teaspoonful of soda in a little boiling water and stir it into the batter. Pour over the mixture at once into a well-greased baking pan, and bake in a quick oven for about half an hour.

LAZIEST OF MORTALS.

Foreman's Description of the Jamaica Negro in Panama.

From the Washington Post.

The Jamaican negro is about the slowest proposition that the Lord ever put the breath of life into. If there was a law that he had to dig his own grave, he would have to start at it in his early manhood.

Ten American tramps, the kind your city marshal runs out of town here, will do more work than forty of those fellows. Two white men can very easily carry a cedar tie but when you want the Jamaicans to do the job a squad of five or six will go after the tie. A 730-pound rail that seven or eight American workmen could lift easily would necessitate a swarm of Jamaicans so thick that you wouldn't see the rail.

These negroes are widely different from the American brand. They haven't the slightest idea of music, and can't even dance. It delights their ears just as much to hammer on a couple of tin pans as it would to hear the finest orchestra in the land. They are gullible beyond comprehension. You could tell 'em anything on the face of the earth. It doesn't make any difference what the thing is or whether it is of any use. A couple of fellows landed at Gatun one day and set up an outfit. All in the world they had was a wooden head that twisted around in a grotesque fashion and which the owners said could tell fortunes. I suppose it cost probably $2 or $3. The Jamaicans swarmed in that tent like flies all day long to have their fortunes told by the wooden-headed seer. Next day I saw the two fakirs carrying a sack full of coin, and it was about all they could do to lift it over to the depot.

On pay day at Empire, which is the largest pay station on the canal, the line extends from the pay cars back as far as the eye can reach. Sometimes it takes the whole day to settle with the laborers. Awaiting the paid-off men is a market the like of which was never seen in all the world. There are Hindus with bright shawls, fancy handkerchiefs and dazzling ribbons, hoodoo doctors with strange charms that ward off evil and bring wealth untold; old hags offerings to tell fortunes; half clad girls with baskets of pineapples, oranges and bananas, boys in the same costume, or perhaps less of it, with chewing gum and candy, photographers ready to take pictures; writers tendering their services to indite letters, and so on beyond all computation sometimes five hundred people are there trying to earn a penny from the laborer by selling him something he doesn't want but thinks that he does.

One reason why the Jamaica negro is so hard to energize is because he understands he is a British subject, and he thinks King Edward is averse to his being worked too hard, and that if he learns of it he will send warships along to start trouble.

If a few of the old Mississippi steamboat mates could be recalled temporarily from the happy land to instruct the Jamaicans in the art of moving along, the canal could be completed ahead of the schedule.

Nine days' illness a year is the average for the human being.

THE WORLD of BOOKS

FAIRY TALES.

"Tales of Wonder," edited by Kate Douglas Wiggin and Nora Archibald Smith. Doubleday, Page & Co., publishers, New York. Price $1.50.

These stories of fairies and other supernatural creatures are drawn from sources chiefly oriental, and very few of them will be found familiar even by well-read children. They are carefully edited and fittingly printed and bound, but not illustrated.

INDIAN CHIEFS.

"Famous Indian Chiefs," by Charles L. Johnstone. L. C. Page & Co., publishers, Boston. Price $1.50.

An outline history of the chief Indian wars of the United States may be found in this volume, although nominally it is composed of biographies, beginning with the chief's first encounter on the coast, continuing with those who organized confederations in the interior and those who governed in the far west and southwest, and coming down to Sitting Bull and Geronimo. It is illustrated by portraits, and is an excellent companion for any school history of the United States.

"The Seven Ages of Childhood," pictures by Jessie Willcox Smith. Moffat, Yard & Co., publishers, New York. Price $3 net.

Miss Wells has written a delightful parodic extension of Jacques' soliloquy, while Miss Smith has accompanied her verses with a series of marginal sketches and seven of her exquisitely truthful and artistic color plates. It is only to be regretted that in the scheme of things the continuity of juvenile progression has been broken by the intrusion of one of the boy kind, while all the other characters in this march of life are of the gentler sex.

AN INTERESTING JUVENILE.

"The Secret of Old Thunderhead," by Louise Godfrey Irwin. Henry Holt & Co., publishers, New York. Price $1.50.

A schoolboy, not passing his examination successfully, goes to spend the summer in Vermont with his uncle, intending to "make up" his lessons. He finds many pleasant ways of diverting himself, drills the children of an idle neighbor, and, with his cousins, discovers the skeleton of a kinsman who disappeared in the eighteenth century, together with papers necessary to prove the right of the boy's grandfather to the family estate in England. Also he earns money by drilling some idle workmen, makes a good friend, and goes home a happy boy.

"TILDA JANE'S ORPHANS."

"Tilda Jane's Orphans," by Marshall Saunders. L. C. Page & Co., publishers, Boston. Price $1.50.

Having been transferred from an orphan asylum to a comfortable and pleasant home, the heroine desires that other orphans shall share her happiness. Her attempts to obtain an orphan from the asylum result in the appearance of an elephantine and sulky young person desirous of patronizing her and of managing the entire family, Grandpa Hank, 'Tilda Jane's dogs, two pigs whom she herself introduces, and Grandpa's thousand-dollar bull pup included. 'Tilda's gentle kindness subdues her, and the last chapter leaves everyone happy and growing better.

ART AND ARTISTS.

"Artists, Past and Present," by Elisabeth Luther Cary. Moffat, Yard & Co., publishers, New York. Price $2.50 net.

Miss Cary, whose fame as an art critic of distinction and the broad view has been growing rapidly of recent years, gives us in this book a range of comment and criticism covering a pleasing variety of manners and times and accomplishment; its pages strongly suggesting hours spent in a well chosen gallery in critical and appreciative companionship with a mind of humor, discrimination, enthusiasm and keen intellectual quality.

It is above all things a suggestive book, its viewpoint apart from the common, its vision penetrating, its message not conventional but sure and sound. In the fine maturity of her appreciative powers, Miss Cary's unerring common sense is here seen in full control of her critical function.

THE ALHAMBRA.

"Legends of the Alhambra," by Washington Irving. Illustrations by George Hood; introduction by Hamilton W. Mabie. The J. B. Lippincott company, publishers, Philadelphia. Price $2.50 net.

Irving's great work deserves a rich setting whenever reproduced, and in this volume it is given a satisfactory presentation, with a series of full color illustrations which suffer only from the inevitable comparison with the work of Maxfield Parrish, whose style the artist has closely followed. Mr. Mabie's introduction is a scholarly appreciation of Irving's charming work, and includes a brief sketch of the author's career in Spain. This edition of the Alhambra is one of the notable gift books of the season.

A DOG STORY.

"Tag, or the Chien Boule Dog," by Valance Patriarche. L. C. Page & Co., publishers, Boston. Price $1.00.

A bridal couple on a train become interested in a small boy who is tagged for New York. The child, Canadian-French, has the dog, and the dog chews the tag. The complications consequent upon this destruction of the only means of the boy's identification, the efforts of the bride and bridegroom to rid themselves of their suddenly acquired family, their many failures and final success, make an attractive little story that sustains its interest to the happy ending. A number of clever drawings add to the interest of the text.

"LITTLE SISTER SNOW."

"Little Sister Snow," by Frances Little. The Century company, publishers, New York. Price $1.00 net.

Yuki Chan, a Japanese maiden, very young, very winsome and very quaintly talkative in the English she has learned at a mission school, is the heroine of this dainty bit of a story. All her short life she had lived in a house of love, but no veil of affection, no sacrifice could shield her from the knowledge that she was poor." Therefore, when Saito San, a wealthy officer in the emperor's household, offers marriage, she dutifully puts a thank offering before the household god in gratitude for the husband who is to aid her honorable parents. But Saito San is only a faraway, shadowy being," whom she is to obey the rest of her life. Always she remembers "that funny lil' boy what gave spunk to my hands long time ago"—and when the boy comes back into her life, sent to Japan by the American government, the outcome is a romance, touching in its pathos, sweet in its crystal-clear purity and interesting in its every stage. The Japanese artist who illustrates the story is represented by 12 pictures in full color.

"THE SOUTHERNER."

"The Southerner," Doubleday, Page & Co., publishers, New York. Price $1.20 net.

Readers of Thomas Dixon, Jr.'s, hysterical romances of Civil war times may doubt that there is a place for another novel on the Reconstruction period. There are many who believe that the trilogy which was begun with "The Leopard's Spots" and ended with "The Traitor," contains the last word on the subject. The fact is that the first real Reconstruction novel has just appeared, and it is not by the Rev. Mr. Dixon either. "The Southerner" is described on the title page as "the autobiography of Nicholas Worth," but the name of the author has not been disclosed. If, as some have suggested, he is Mr. Frank Doubleday, we see no reason why he should wish to hide his light under a bushel.

As an antidote for the Dixon stories, "The Southerner" cannot be too strongly recommended. Nicholas Worth tells his story with simplicity. He remembers how, when he was a small boy, the Union soldiers occupied his father's house, none too careful in their treatment of the furniture. He recalls the fortunes of war as facts, without animosity or rancor, but he never lets us forget that he is a southerner. After the close of the war, he is sent to Harvard where his studies and experiences broaden him. He is surprised at northern sentiment toward the negro. His own attitude toward slavery is that it has interfered with the development of the south; it has made his countrymen rely on negro labor, thereby creating the false sentiment which caused poor white men to consider themselves above manual work.

On his graduation he returns to his home, and devotes all his time and energy toward the uplifting of his people in their finances. The theory that he puts into effect is that public schools should be established for the training of both white and black children, wherein practical knowledge may be acquired. He inaugurates a system of reconstruction in its best sense. The conservative element oppose his well-directed efforts, call him a "nigger-lover," and condemn him as an enemy to the aristocratic, old-school atmosphere of the south.

There is no raking up of old wrongs in this book. It is sane and balanced. In an afterword, which, in its wording reminds one of Lincoln's address at Gettysburg, the author says: "If any reader of what I have written shall find anywhere a single word of bitterness, I pray him to rub it out. . . . Sympathy for all, and for all toleration; pity for many, and for some affection; against ignorance and narrow-mindedness, was to the end; but bitterness toward no human creature." A pretty love story is a wholesome leaven to the novel.

PICTURES BY SCHREYVOGEL.

"My Bunkie and Others," by Charles Schreyvogel. Moffat, Yard & Co., publishers, New York. Price $4 net.

Mr. Schreyvogel's most famous painting, "My Bunkie," established his reputation nine years ago by winning for him the Clarke prize in the National Academy of Design exhibition. Since his production of that remarkably dramatic canvas, representing the rescue of an unhorsed soldier by a comrade in a frontier fight with Indians, the artist has done some equally impressive work commemorative of the struggles for the great west. Indeed, Mr. Schreyvogel has become perhaps the most striking exponent of American art in the rendering of strictly typical American scenes. Born on the east side of New York at the outset of the Civil war, the artist was 32 years of age before he had a glimpse of the life he longed to depict. As a boy he had dreamed of drawing and painting Indians, cowboys and soldiers. Had his parents permanently shaped his career he would have been a die sinker, but his ambition was not to be downed, and the result is a series of paintings that are invaluable in the preservation of a phase of life that has even now passed beyond recall. In this volume are reproduced 36 of Schreyvogel's works in full-page photogravures. The volume is prefaced by a brief sketch of the artist.

"YAMA YAMA LAND."

"Yama Yama Land," by Grace Duffie Boylan. Pictures by John R. Neill. The Reilly & Britton company, publishers, Chicago. Price $1.25.

More than 10,000 persons have seen Bessie McCoy and her troupe of triangular Yama Yamas present the famous acting song entitled "The Yama Yama Man" in the musical comedy, "The Three Twins," but the universal interest aroused by this grotesquely funny and weird performance had the effect of weaving around the Yama Yamas a wonderful legend of a wonderful man—the Yama Yama man—unseen, unknown, but known to be here, there, anywhere, everywhere. From this mere whisper of so strange a character, Grace Duffie Boylan has traced him to his queer home and his equally queer people. In doing this the author has given adventures of the rarest quality to a fair-haired little Sylvia whose escapades will open wide the eyes and imaginations of all children of the fairy-tale age.

In aid of the text, Edgar Keller's gorgeous pictures are full of humor and about 100 throughout the text are reproduced in colors, besides which are 12 full page, and two double page pictures in four colors.

The theatrical rights of this book have already been arranged. The story is to be utilized in forming the plot of an extravaganza of the Wizard of Oz order, and is to be produced in New York at the beginning of the theatrical season of 1910.

ANOTHER OZ BOOK.

How to reach the Magic City of Oz over a road leading through lands of many colors, peopled with odd characters, and surcharged with adventure suitable for the minds and imaginations of young children, is the problem L. Frank Baum has made into a delightfully characteristic story. Year after year this children's favorite author brings forward the successful fairy tale for little tots. His inventive genius in the matter of characters, his whimsical humor, dry wit and amazing plots are in exact balance, and form the cornerstone of his tremendous success.

Mr. Baum's original Wizard of Oz contained a narrative of Dorothy Gale's experiences in arriving at the Emerald City. This required her going through various fairy lands of different colors and different people. The new book for 1909 is the Road to Oz, which comes nearer than any other to going over the ground of the original Wizard of Oz. Therefore, in order to produce the various colors of the different lands through which the road to the Emerald City leads, it has been necessary to use various colors of paper. This makes the book very odd in appearance and entirely different from any other of the Baum books. Indeed, all of the Baum books are different, one from the other. This is necessary to his scheme of entertaining the youngsters. In selecting these various tints of paper only those colors were used that would be harmless to the eye. In fact, the colors selected are less trying than black and white, according to expert advise we took on this subject.

In the original Wizard of Oz, which was a new scheme of color work in books, the tint block plan was used, but as edition succeeded edition these tint blocks became worn and in some cases the text was very hard to read. All this has been avoided in the Road to Oz.

A POLICEMAN'S TESTIMONY

J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Iowa, writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half a dozen advertised cough medicines without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world."

UNSPORTSMANLIKE CONDUCT IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL.

From American Review of Review.

It is not merely that football as now played is a hazardous game, in which the chance of physical injury is too great to be tolerated by wise parents, but the game as played is also a demoralizing game because it is often unsportsmanlike. In a game of tennis no one thinks of taking advantage of an opponent by any sort of cheating. But in the great contests at football the one object is to win by all possible means, and there is always an endeavor to beat the rules. If there is a star player on the opposing team, there is apt to be a definite intention to "put him out of the game" by some means or another.

A college president whose eyes are open to the evils of the game remarked the other day concerning certain recent fatalities that these men had been killed intentionally. He hastened to explain that he did not mean that there was any deliberate intention to produce fatal results, but that there was probably a purpose to injure the opponent sufficiently to "put him out of the game." All this has a very ugly sound, and it will be bitterly denied in some academic quarters. But let it stand as the expression of a very experienced and able observer.

As a rule, two productive acres of land are required for each inhabitant of a country.

It's a Good Sound Common Sense Policy

To use medicines only of KNOWN COMPOSITION, and which contain neither alcohol nor habit-forming drugs. It is foolish—often dangerous to do otherwise. The most intelligent people, and many of the most successful, conscientious physicians, follow this judicious course of action. The leading medical authorities, of all schools of medicine, endorse the ingredients composing Dr. Pierce's medicines. These are plainly printed on wrappers and attested under oath. There's no secrecy; an open publicity, square-deal policy is followed by the makers.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

THE ONE REMEDY for woman's ailments, sold by druggists, devised and gotten up by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in treating women's peculiar diseases and carefully adapted to work in harmony with her delicate organization, by an experienced and skilled specialist in her maladies.

THE ONE REMEDY for woman's ailments, sold by druggists, which contains neither alcohol (which to most women is the rankest poison) or other injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY for women, the composition of which is so perfect and good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient, in plain English on its outside bottle-wrapper, and attest the correctness of the same under oath.

We have a profound desire to avoid all offense to the most delicate sensitiveness of modest women, for whom we entertain the most sincere respect and admiration. We shall not, therefore, particularize here concerning the symptoms and peculiar ailments incident to the sex for which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has for more than 40 years proven such a boon. We cannot, however, do a better service to the afflicted of the gentler sex than to refer them to Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a great family doctor book of 1,008 pages, bound in cloth and given away gratis, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps—to cover cost of mailing only. All the delicate ailments and matters about which every woman, whether young or old, single or married, should know, but which they scarcely hesitate to ask even the family physician about, are made plain in this great book. Write for it.

FORMER UMPIRE TAKES FIRM GRIP ON REINS

NEW YORK, Dec 20—Thomas J Lynch, the new president of the National league, assumed his duties this morning, but requested that the baseball public give him time to acquaint himself with the details of his position before making any statement as to his plans All Lynch would say was that he was in favor of upholding the umpire's decision and that he was glad to have the co-operation of John Heydler

That the election of Lynch to the presidency has not entirely restored harmonious relations between the National and American leagues is evidenced by the statement given out tonight by John M. Ward whose candidacy was opposed by B. B. Johnson president of the American league.

Mr. Ward said

"The election of Mr Lynch as president of the National league was a happy solution of the situation. He was a capable umpire and a high class man. He has a mind of his own and will have something to say about the business of the National commission. With him as a member of that body the baseball interests of the country may rest assured that their affairs will not be conducted in barroom."

HARVARD WANTS TO GET INTO THE FOLD

CAMBRIDGE Mass Dec 20—Application for membership in the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of the United States will be made by Harvard university at the next annual meeting of the organization in New York Dec 28. Although the Intercollegiate Athletic association includes the majority of the colleges of the country Harvard Yale Princeton Cornell and Columbia have not entered The feeling prevails at Harvard however that Yale and possibly the other institutions named will follow the example of the athletic committee here

Varnell of Fort Wayne has signed almost half a hundred players for next year in Indiana universities are hivering on insolvency.

WILL TEST WISCONSIN PRIZE FIGHT STATUTE

MILWAUKEE Wis, Dec 20—The boxing bouts arranged for Tuesday night at the Hippodrome by the Badger Athletic club will be held according to schedule. The authorities have agreed with the promoters to make a test case of the bouts and decide once and for all whether boxing as conducted nowadays is a violation of the state laws

It will be in the nature of a friendly suit as the local authorities are also anxious to learn the correct interpretation of the law as set forth in the statutes There will be four bouts two of six rounds Harry Mansfield of Philadelphia who is to appear in the windup, arrived today Bob Moha, Freddie Andrews and Eddie Greenwald are all in fine shape for the bouts

RACE RESULTS

TAMPA Fla Dec 20 Thrilling finishes characterized today's racing, the proverbial blanket being all necessary space for covering the six horses as they finished in the last race and the judges had a hard time singling the winner

A nose finish between Bannock Bob and Demonsprata in the fourth brought the large audience to its feet

At Oakland

OAKLAND Cal, Dec. 20 The Reneeta at Emeryville today resulted in one of the best races of the season Perjurio winning in a drive from the fast-coming Arsaf with Claudight, the favorite, third Roy Junior fell in the last race, and Sheldon was badly shaken up

At Jacksonville.

JACKSONVILLE Fla. Dec. 20.—One of the features of today's card at Moncrief was Butwell's riding on Harvey F in the second race. This was made in a wonderful stretch drive and put the horse over a winner at a closing price of 12 to 1 and the books fared nicely as both Sou and Fulfill were heavily played Butwell put up another good ride when he won the fifth race on Rostrum, this horse being the heavily-played favorite

BIG BATTLE WILL BE IN SALT LAKE SAYS "TEX"

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. Salt Lake City is to get the Jeffries-Johnson fight.

That was the statement that "Tex" Rickard made this noon at the Annex, where he is stopping during a brief layover to break the monotony of his trip from coast to coast. Rickard got in the New York in the morning, and was busy during the day in greeting old Chicago friends

That Utah is the spot for the battle of the century the widely-known Nevada promoter is quite certain. He does not seem to care what his partner in the game, Jack Gleason, has said about San Francisco being the only spot Rickard is going right ahead with his boom for Utah and Salt Lake City and the famous Salt Palace.

"Quote me plainly as saying that from the present indications, the fight will be held on either the fourth or fifth of next July in Salt Lake, and at the Salt Palace, too," the big mining man-gambler said "I have seen what Gleason has said about San Francisco, and much of it is true, but I know some things that I have not yet confided to Jack These will change his opinion when I get to see him"

HOPPE TO GO AFTER WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS

CHICAGO, Dec. 20—Willie Hoppe yesterday placed himself under the management of Charles Tenney of this city and started a campaign that he declares will result in his winning the undisputed billiard championship of the world It is Hoppe's intention not only to go after the 18.1 and 18.2 balk line championships but to seek the three cushion title as well

Sporting Notes

KANSAS CITY Dec 20—Wilde Gibbs of Philadelphia and Teddy Peppers of Kansas City today were matched to fight 10 rounds here on the afternoon of January 1 The men will weigh in at 138 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon

There is no doubt that George Gibson, the catcher, is a star now There is a controversy on as to who discovered him.

Several New York papers call Horace Fogel a joke because it is alleged that he tried to make a first baseman out of Matheweon Go softly, boys hasn't Mcgraw tried to make an outfielder out of McCormick and a catcher out of Meyers?

The grand old national game continues its advance At the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast league at San Francisco recently Superior Court Judge Thomas R Graham, of San Francisco was elected president of that league in succession to J Cal Ewing, resigned This will be pleasing news to Chief Justice Moody of Massachusetts who was once president of the New England league

N.W MINES OPENED IN CRIPPLE CREEK

Several Additions to List of Shippers Good Finds on Gold Hill.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo, Dec. 20.—A two-car shipment was loaded out yesterday from the International shaft on the center block of the Gold King mine on Gold hill, operated under lease by the Success Mining company of Colorado Springs. The mine was secured under lease from the Savage Gold and Copper Mining company in November, and has been brought to its present profitable condition through persistent efforts on the part of Superintendent Kinzey, at one time employed as a miner on the same property.

A new ore shoot has been opened up on the southern extension of one of the veins found in the workings of the Clara D. mine of the Lexington Gold Mining company, and the shipment billed out to one of the Colorado City plants is estimated at about $20 for the coarse rock and between $40 and $50 a ton for the screenings.

In the shipping mines list will again be found the Santa Rita, a Squaw mountain property operated under lease by J. Maloney of Victor. The lessee has opened up a rich shoot at the third level of the Santa Rita shaft, and the ore is averaging about $40 to the ton. The levels in the Santa Rita incline were carried out at depths of 50 feet apart, but drifting into the hill at the third level, the ore is found at about 175 feet from surface. The property is owned by the Santa Rita Gold Mining company.

The books of the United Gold Mines company were closed today and stockholders of record December 20 will be mailed dividend checks on December 24, for the dividend at the rate of 1 cent per share. The sum to be distributed is $40,000, and will bring the total sum paid the shareholders of the company since its incorporation to $320,071.

Lessees on the Gregory mine of the Elkton Consolidated Mining and Milling company are making steady production of milling grade ofe from the northern extension of the old Hayden shoot. From two to four cars a week are loaded out for treatment at the valley mills and the returns average between $18 and $30 to the ton.

BURLINGTON TO RAISE $75,000,000 ON BONDS

Money Needed for Extensions and Improvements in Colorado and Other States.

DENVER, Dec. 20.—The Post tonight says:

Extensions and improvements to be made by the Burlington road in Colorado, the building of a north and south transcontinental system, and extensions in Wyoming and other western states is to be the cause of the great Burlington system, operated by James J Hill, increasing its present bond issue by $75,000,000.

This information was received in Denver today and comes from an entirely reliable source.

It is announced that the Burlington and Colorado and Southern roads will not be consolidated for some time for the simple reason that the Hill interests only own about 75 per cent of the common stock of the Colorado and Southern and will not attempt to merge the properties until they own or control the entire 100 per cent of common stock.

Work on the new Burlington branch from Hudson to Greeley in to start soon after the first of the year and many other extensions in this state are contemplated. Hill has long planned a line from Seattle to the Gulf of Mexico via Denver, and this will be one of his important projects to be carried out during the coming year.

In order to add $75,000,000 to the existing bond issue it will be necessary to file notice with each secretary of state in all the states through which the Burlington operates, and it is announced that the official filing will soon be made here. The fee which the state will receive is about $150,000.

SPECULATION RETARDED BY CALLING OF LOANS

Selling Pressure Checks Advance in Stock Prices on the New York Exchange.

NEW YORK Dec. 20.—The speculative hope that the approach of the holidays would be signalized by a brisk advance in prices of stocks was disappointed today. The spotty advance at the outset met selling pressure of such an effective kind that enthusiasm was chilled.

A factor in this result was the setback in the Atlantic coast line group of securities which followed the putting out of denials, with appearance of authority, of the rumors which accompanied last week's advance in those stocks.

Another depressing influence was the calling of loans on a large scale by several of the large banks, which necessitated the replacing of accommodations. One reason given for this calling of loans was the appearance of increased supplies of commercial paper and the desire of the banks to provide themselves with means to take it.

The $1,500,000 gold to be shipped to South America was withdrawn from the subtreasury during the day, but, meanwhile, that institution had contributed more than $2,000,000 to the banks since Friday.

The extent of the shifting of loans by some of the banks gave rise to a conjecture that any adjustment of accounts might be in progress looking to mergers in the banking world. Recent operations in connection with the purchase of the Equitable Life Assurance society and marked movements in some of the bank stocks have fostered an expectation of such developments.

The reiteration of the report from Paris that the effort to list United States Steel on the bourse had been definitely abandoned with the dissolution of the syndicate which took a block of the stock in connection with the project, weighed on its price to some extent.

The census bureau's cotton ginning report was held in the cotton market to confirm the agricultural department's serious view of the crop shortage; a matter of grave import to industry and to the high cost of living. The pressure of the demands for higher wages by railway trainmen and conductors in the east seemed to awaken languid interest. American Sugar suffered from the prosecution of the customs frauds.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $4,674,000. United States 2s advanced ½ per cent on call.

WHEAT LOSES PART OF LAST WEEK'S GAIN

Break Due to Weakness of Foreign Markets Corn Advances on Buying by Shorts.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—The wheat market today lost part of the gain made during the bullish demonstration of last Saturday, and closed with prices ⅝ to 2⅝@2⅞ lower than the previous close. Corn and oats closed strong and provisions weak.

Extreme nervousness marked wheat. Prices moved over a range of 1⅝@1⅝ to 1⅜. During the day December delivery sold between $1.16⅝ and $1.18⅜ and the May option between $1.12⅝ and $1.13⅝@⅞. Closing quotations on December were at $1.16¼@1.16⅜. May closed at $1.13⅛.

Weakness of foreign markets (the Liverpool market being off ¼ to ⅝d cable) caused a sharp break here at the opening, initial quotations being down from 1 to 2 cents. A bulge of 3 cents in corn prompted considerable covering by shorts, which resulted in a substantial advance toward midday. An improved demand for cash wheat, light primary receipts and a storm in the northwest also helped to strengthen the market.

Cold weather caused weakness in corn, but toward the middle of the day urgent buying by shorts forced prices up sharply. Prices closed almost at the top, with net gains of 1½ to 1⅝.

Oats were weak at the start, because of the heaviness of wheat and corn, but rallied later. An advance of ¼ to ⅜c in the price of the cash grain helped to strengthen the options. Prices closed ⅝ to 1c higher.

Provisions closed unchanged to 17½ lower.

THE CHEMISTRY OF INSANITY.

From the British Medical Journal.

Among the present wonders of science none stirs the imagination, so powerfully as the doctrine that some forms of insanity are the result of a chemical change in the blood. At once the mere words raise, even in a mind that knows nothing of physiology and pathology, a clear image of nature at work. It is all so simple, so reasonable. Why did not the doctors, long ago, see what anybody can see? Surely, we can account for everything now. Everything falls into line, takes it place in life, surrenders itself to be explained. Especially those temporary upsets of our mental balance which are far short of insanity. The ill temper which we feel and make others feel on a bleak east windy day or from want of sleep, or because our digestions are out of order, and every stage of drink from the happy letting-free of thought and talk, to the reeling home and physical nastiness of the drunkard, and all the nightmares, all attacks of melancholy, all extravagances of passion—they are all due, so it is claimed, to a chemical change in the blood acting on the brain.

For the last 500 miles of its course the Amazon river has an average gradient of only 1 in eighth of an inch per mile.

A Gift Novelty

Christmas sweets, made by our expert candy makers, in the greatest variety of flavors from the purest of materials—delicious as they are they disappear in a hurry! We've offset this by gift basket of permanent value. Packed in one of these dainty Sweet-grass Baskets or one of the handsome silk-lined German Glove—or Work Baskets—a gift of Burgess sweets is truly irresistible. (We'll be closed all Christmas day.)
